Select media houses will be paid to create content for a new product called News Showcase, Google said on Thursday

TAKING POWER BACK FROM ALGORITHMS

It's Google's biggest financial commitment to the media industry yet and builds on its recently-launched news licensing program in which it pays select publishers to feature their stories in Google News and Search. The new product will allow publishers to highlight stories that they think are more relevant to readers, instead of letting the algorithm do the business

WORK IN PROGRESS ON INDIA DEALS

UP cops peddle no-rape theory, cite lab report on samples

Appalled experts describe spin-doctoring by police as extremely irresponsible, erroneous

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/ Lucknow

THE Hathras gang-rape and murder case got a new twist on Thursday with the UP police trashing the sexual assault claim and spinning out a conspiracy theory instead. Citing a forensic lab report that said no traces of sperm were found in the samples taken from the victim's body, ADG Law and Order Prashant Kumar claimed the victim wasn't raped. But the report's value was questionable as the samples were lifted eight days after the assault.

Soon, ADG Kumar ran into a brick wall of criticism as experts described his inference as "extremely irresponsible, unprofessional and erroneous". Legal experts recalled that the 2013 amendment in rape laws waived the clause that had made it necessary to establish 'penetration' in such crimes. They also questioned the inordinate delay in conducting the medical examination.

A senior scientific officer at a government forensic department said: "As a general norm, after 72 hours of such an offence, it is difficult to get traces of semen. So, it is crucial to send the sample for examination within 72 hours." In the Hathras case, the samples collected on the eighth day after the assault reached the lab on the eleventh day.

Former DGP of UP police, Vikram Singh, said the horrific Nirbhaya tragedy had brought reforms in the rape law and it was made clear that penetration is not necessary to establish the offence. P11

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi slumps amid a confrontation with the Uttar Pradesh police who detained him on the way to Hathras on Thursday | PTI

Rahul, Priyanka hit the streets, briefly detained

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

ON a day of intense political tussle over the alleged gang-rape and murder of a Dalit woman in Hathras, Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra were on Thursday briefly detained by the UP police while on their way to meet her family. A footage of the incident showing a scuffle between Congress workers and the UP police, during which Rahul got knocked down, added to the drama.

Earlier, the convoy of the Congress leaders was stopped on the Yamuna Expressway in Greater Noida. The police told them not to proceed to Hathras as Section 144 was in force there. But Rahul and Priyanka alighted from their vehicle and started proceeding on foot along the Yamuna expressway to Hathras.

The scuffle broke out when the police tried to stop them again. Rahul and Priyanka were briefly detained and then taken back to Delhi by the police. Later, an FIR was filed against them and over 130 Congress workers for flouting prohibitory orders under Section 144. For his part, Rahul criticised the Yogi government, calling it jungle raj. "It is Jungle Raj in UP that meeting a family in mourning scares the government. Don't be so afraid chief minister," he tweeted. P4,11

SC nixes Gujarat's 12-hr workday notification

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday struck down the Gujarat government's notification exempting industries in the state from observing certain obligations towards workers, such as providing humane working conditions and paying overtime wages.

The Gujarat government had issued a notification on April 17 allowing industries to make employees work for 12 hours a day with a 30-minute break after every six hours. It also did away with the provision that mandates double wages for overtime work.

A bench headed by Justice D Y Chandrachud termed the notification an affront to workers' right against forced labour and said employees' right to life cannot be at the mercy of their employers.

The notification was issued under Section 5 of the Factories Act, which gives state governments the power to exempt industries from provisions of the Act on grounds of public emergency. The Gujarat government cited the Covid-19 pandemic as the reason for invoking Section 5.

The bench said the state government's intent may have been to ameliorate the financial exigencies of industries but the burden cannot be placed on the "weary shoulders of the labouring worker".

State rules soon for reopening of pools; alternate lanes to be used, hygiene must

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

PROFESSIONAL swimmers and athletes will soon be able to head back into the water for practise, with the State government planning to formulate guidelines for the reopening of swimming pools after the Union Ministry of Home Affairs announced more relaxations on Wednesday.

The Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports will formulate guidelines based on those issued by the Union Sports Ministry.

Minister for Sports C T Ravi said a Covid-negative certificate was mandatory for athletes wishing to practise and that athletes must behave responsibly by not going to the pool if they are sick. "Their health is their responsibility inside the pool," he said.

Commissioner of the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports K Srinivas told The New Indian Express that regulations will include the use of alternate lanes to maintain distance and sanitising the premises. Spitting in the pool will be prohibited, he said, adding, "But that is difficult to track. That is why the general public is still not allowed. Sportspersons know the importance of a swimming pool and they can be expected to be hygienic."

Once in place, the rules will apply to over 100 pools across the State, most of which are privately managed. Of these, 55 are affiliated with the Bengaluru-based professional body Karnataka Swimming Association, which also manages about 1,000 swimmers.

> Now that official guidelines will be issued, we shall wait and prepare our own dos and don'ts based on that, and submit it to the government
> Rohit Babu N, Swimming Development Officer

Srinivas said that the Association had approached the government some time ago seeking permission to reopen pools. "We could not do it then without the Union government's directions. Now that we have approval, we will be able to do so with health measures in place for the athletes. We are still waiting for the guidelines, which can be expected in about a week."

Swimming Development Officer at the Association Rohit Babu N said the Association had already formulated its own Standard Operating Procedures.

"Now that official guidelines will be issued, we will wait and prepare our own do's and don'ts based on that, and submit it to the government," he said.

Proposed twin towers may have skywalks to Metro stns

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

TO ensure easy accessibility to its upcoming mega project -- a 50-storey twin towers -- near Anand Rao Circle, the Public Works Department (PWD) has proposed putting in place skywalks from three Metro stations in the vicinity.

The funding of the Rs 500-crore project, coming up on eight acres of PWD land, is now being examined by the state Finance Department. The project was initially proposed for 25 floors in each tower, but was scaled up to 50 floors. It is to be taken up under the public-private partnership model that will bring many government and semi-government organizations under one roof.

A sketch of the proposed twin towers near Anand Rao Circle | EXPRESS

A senior PWD official said that they are exploring the feasibility of setting up three modern skywalks — running to eight km in total — to ensure easy access to offices for Metro commuters. "The skywalks we are keen on having are from our towers to Kempegowda Interchange Metro station (along KSRTC side-0.8 km), Mantri Sampige Metro station (1.2 km) and Vidhana Soudha (1.8 km). We have proposed taking them up under the Smart City project," he said.

These skywalks will be on the lines of Terminal 3 at Delhi Airport. "It will comprise sufficient walking space with walkalators (moving walkways) running side by side." The walkalators will not be a continuous stretch, but will cover a considerable distance as separate segments, he added.

Asked about the cost factor, another official said that the Finance Department needs to give the green signal to the Twin Tower project. "The Detailed Project Report for it will be readied," he said.

Hephsiba Rani Korlapati, Mananging Director, Bengaluru Smart City Ltd, said, "The PWD has indicated its interest in setting up the skywalks from Metro stations to facilitate easy access to its building. It is at an initial stage and we will be holding detailed deliberations on it shortly to assess its feasibility."

Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd Managing Director Ajay Seth said that he was yet to receive any proposal about it from the PWD.

BMTC joins hands with NIMHANS for crew health

Used rly sleepers inject life into Bidadi goods shed

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A TOTAL of 8,000 disposable railway sleepers have been put to good use by the Bengaluru Railway Division by building a goods shed out of them, from scratch, within a month at Bidadi. This will help all loading and unloading activities at the yard, and in particular, also boost gypsum trade between the Chennai Port and Bidadi.

Thousands of sleepers are released by the Railways annually, as new ones are laid when tracks are renewed. This is the third such goods shed being constructed in the division utilising used sleepers, with the previous ones being at Nelamangala and Penukonda.

Terming the new goods shed a classic example of sustainable development, Divisional Railway Manager (Bengaluru) A K Verma said, "The Pre-Stressed Concrete (PSC) sleepers have been utilised to develop a 360-metre unloading platform, which has been done on the request of the Chennai Division of Southern Railway."

The three goods sheds have been developed from scratch utilising 30,000 released sleepers, he added. Sleepers are sturdy and can withstand great load, making them an ideal material to develop roads or any surfaces likely to carry much weight.

Saint Gobain has a huge manufacturing facility at Bidadi. "Gypsum from Chennai Port can be transported here. There is a potential for loading of 2,00,000 metric tonnes per year," he said, adding, "We got rich dividends in the form of substantial increase in NMG loading and first-ever Roll On-Roll Off service of South Western Railway."

Senior Divisional Commercial Manager A N Krishna Reddy said, "Usage of sleepers is cost-effective. Being M55 PSC, the surface can withstand the movement of heavy machinery and loaded lorries. It has saved us much transportation cost."

The goods shed surface improvement was planned for a 600 metre x 15 metre area. In the first phase, 390 metre x 15 metre area has been readied.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
If you could ever find the balance between home and family life and your worldly ambitions, it would be a breakthrough of epic proportions. Now you must put your special aspirations at the top of the agenda, go for broke and accept no limitations whatsoever.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You want the best - and why not? To reach the goals you are now so keen to achieve, will take a good deal of effort, but the results and rewards may eventually outstrip your expectations, especially if you plan properly. Legal and ethical issues deserve your full consideration.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may imagine that a financial choice has been satisfactorily delayed. However, nothing could be further from the truth. Important developments over the next few days could substantially affect your future prosperity, and I suspect it will be for the better.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
I would be the first to admit that emotional security is vital to your happiness but, as the days pass, amazing events will alter your outlook on a pattern you thought was so predictable. Don't rely on long-term plans, for everything is up for grabs over the next couple of weeks.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you haven't already got the bit between your teeth, you probably have plenty of spare time left. You have perhaps four or five weeks to prepare your ground, whether it's a personal goal that's at stake, or a professional coup. But you should be aware that partners may take some persuading.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Spontaneity, joy and pleasure are yours for the asking. The Moon's passage from one part of your chart to another makes it apparent that you must have a clear head and work out exactly what it is that you want. After all, you can't expect other people to satisfy you if you don't even know what to ask for!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You can take a series of slow but significant steps down the street of success, but there'll be a number of sharp bends along the way. Don't be surprised if the ground is swept from under your feet at home - and watch out for electronic machines and explosive gadgets.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may believe that the last word has been said, but if that is the case you are very wrong. You will soon discover that your mind has changed, and that others are likely to come back with some surprising news. What you hear may also have a surprising effect on your affections.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There are some things that cannot be changed, no matter what you do. Yet perhaps you can say enough to reassure people that past slights were unintended or that future goals are good for everyone. Get your thinking cap on and work out the best way to persuade partners that you're right!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It is time to set yourself new goals, adopt different priorities and leave behind the lost opportunities of recent times. But do keep a very open mind and be prepared for last-minute changes, particularly where very close partners are concerned.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus and Mercury are moving towards one of their periodic uncertain celestial patterns. It is therefore very likely that you will actually encounter someone you thought had disappeared - perhaps for ever. Also, be prepared for a true, magical, romantic mystery.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Excellent celestial prospects await you, but you really must wear that thick skin you have started to grow over the past year or so: it is no use being vulnerable and sensitive. Maintain your right to spend some time pottering around at home, and don't be pressurised.

Road to herd immunity a long one for K'taka

BRAZILIAN CITY CASTS DOUBTS ON 'HERD IMMUNITY'

The experience of Manaus, the largest city in Brazil's Amazon basin, suggest herd immunity may not last very long. Manaus witnessed a sharp fall in the number of deaths from about 60 a day on April 30, to just three by late August. The fall in the number of infections was attributed to herd immunity, with about 70% of the city's population recording antibodies against the virus in the early stages of the pandemic in March-April. But the number of cases and deaths is on the rise again, forcing authorities to reinforce a 30-day lockdown. A Sao Paulo University study raises questions about the concept of herd immunity for Covid-19. "Something that is evident in our study is that antibodies against SARS-CoV-2 decay quickly, a few months after infection," Lewis Buss, an author of the study, said in a statement by the São Paulo Research Foundation.

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

IF you recover from Covid-19, your immunity will last for at least six months. But the bad news is that you can still carry the virus and infect others, as herd immunity still a distant dream.

According to Health Department officials and epidemiologists, herd immunity can be attained only when 60% of the population contracts the disease and recovers. "But there is a long way to go. At present we are relying on sero-survey reports and focusing on individual and community immunity to fight the virus. Though there is no medical research, since the virus is new, chances are that a person is immune to the virus for six months. They are important in breaking the chain and can help build community immunity," said a health official.

> People who recover from Covid-19 are important in breaking the chain and can help build community immunity
> Health official

"Immunity is the best way to beat the virus. Herd immunity will take longer, because at least 50-60 per cent of the people need to get infected. The sero-prevalence report as on September 28 shows that 7.5 per cent have been infected and cured in India. In Karnataka, even if we presume that the population of Bengaluru is 100 lakh, the reported positives constitute 2.28 lakh (2.3%). So individual immunity and community immunity is the way forward at the moment," a senior BBMP official said.

Dr Smitha S from Victoria Hospital said antibodies created while fighting the virus last for 4-6 months. But so far, people have not been tested to know how many antibodies are there.

Dr Giridhar Babu, member of Karnataka Expert Committee, said that while there is no absolute confidence, since the number of relapses is very less, it is understood that immunity last six months. The government has begun focusing on new areas where many cases are being reported. Sero-survey reports are awaited to help channelise the way forward.

KARNATAKA crossed the 1 lakh-mark for active Covid-19 cases on nine days in September.

The highest figure recorded was 1,10,412 active cases on October 1 – 2.59% more than the previous day. However, experts say this is not a cause for concern as the long-term goal of reducing mortality is being met. They also said reducing active cases should not be the focus of Covid management.

Dr C N Manjunath, Director, Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, who is also in charge of Covid testing, said active cases will increase as the positivity rate goes up, due to the detection of more positive cases. This is happening because testing has increased. "The state's positivity rate has been constant — between 12 and 13 per cent. Active cases will grow parallelly to new cases. This helps early isolation at home or hospitalisation and will serve our long-term goal of reducing mortality," he added.

Curbing transmission and not reducing the number of active cases is the goal, said Dr Giridhar Babu, Head of Life-course Epidemiology at Public Health Foundation of India, and a member of the Karnataka Covid Task Force.

"If there are 100 infected people in a district, it is ideal but not possible to detect all. At least 80 will get detected and be isolated so they don't spread the disease. The more cases we find, the faster we control the spread, and the quicker we can reduce the number of Covid deaths," Dr Giridhar said, adding that controlling the number of deaths by finding more cases is the end goal.

Dr Manjunath also said home isolation needs to be monitored properly so hospital admissions go down along with the mortality rate. While the public is more aware now, there are cases of patients' health deteriorating in home quarantine.

"They take it for granted that they can beat the virus without being hospitalised and come only in the later stages, leading to death. This needs to be addressed," he added.

To curb transmission through contact-tracing, districts such as Davanagere, Ramanagara, Bagalkot, Dharwad and Raichur been more successful than others. They were able to trace between 12.5 and 18.6 primary and secondary contacts per patient. Other districts such as Ballari, Chikkaballapur, Belagavi, Chikkamagaluru and Bengaluru, could trace between 3.8 and 6 contacts per patient.

Hypertension treatment launched at village level

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister B Sriramulu on Thursday launched the Indian Hypertension Control Initiative for Chikkamagaluru and Raichur districts, which will later be implemented across the State.

Developed by the State Non-Communicable Diseases Cell the protocol includes prescribing three drugs in six steps which are long-acting, affordable, available in good quality.

"Protocol-based management will indirectly help in drug logistics by better forecasting and ensuring regular supply of medicines at public health facilities. This initiative will be implemented at all levels of care from medical colleges to health and wellness centres. To support the state government, the WHO country office has provided a state cardiovascular health officer and ICMR has approved two senior treatment supervisors," according to a release.

Health workers will be trained to perform tasks traditionally undertaken by doctors allowing expansion of care. As part of International Day of Older Persons, Sriramulu also felicitated elderly people who recovered from Covid-19, and organizations working for geriatric health.

Another big spike puts K'taka in No. 2 spot, after Maha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THREE days after the state saw its biggest single-day spike of 10,453 cases, Thursday saw yet another surge with 10,070 more people testing positive. The massive daily caseload also pushed up the state's active cases (currently under treatment) to its highest-so-far figure of 1,10,412, positioning Karnataka at second spot in the state-wise rank in active cases, after Maharashtra.

Bengaluru too witnessed a surge with 4,853 people contracting the virus. The state tally now stands at 6,11,837 cases.

Of the 130 deaths reported, a two-year-old girl from Bengaluru succumbed to the virus. She suffered from Severe Acute Respiratory Infection, fever, cough. She was admitted on September 13 in a designated hospital and passed away three days later. This takes the total death toll to 8,994 cases.

Those aged above 60 and who succumbed to the virus account for 6.3% of the deaths, followed by those aged between 51 and 60, comprising 2.8%.

Karnataka's positivity rate has been steadily falling. As on Thursday, it was at 12.24%, having declined from 12.54% on September 27, 12.34% on September 28, 12.33% on September 29, and 12.27% on September 30.

Condemn arrests; Dalits not safe in Yogi's UP, say senior leaders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CONGRESS leaders in Karnataka slammed the Uttar Pradesh government for stopping senior party leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi from going to Hathras, to meet the family of the gangrape victim who died on Tuesday in a New Delhi hospital.

Senior leaders took out a protest in Bengaluru on Thursday evening to condemn the arrest of party leaders by UP Police. Janata Dal (Secular) leaders, too, criticised the police action.

"We strongly condemn the arrest of Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi. Yogi Adityanath will have to pay a price for his high-handedness," said former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. "If senior leaders are not safe in UP, how can Dalits, women and farmers be safe?" he questioned.

Taking to social media, Rajya Sabha member Mallikarjuna Kharge said stopping Rahul Gandhi from reaching the victim's family shows that UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath is unnerved that his administration would be exposed. "There is complete collapse of law and order. The UP CM has failed to protect women and Dalits," he added.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said everyone in the country must condemn the UP incident. "We condemn the assault by UP Police on our leader Rahul Gandhi who is fighting for justice for the Hathras gangrape victim. Under what law has he been detained? Why are Rahul and Priyanka not being allowed to meet the victim's family?" he said. People should teach the BJP governments in UP and the Centre a lesson, he added. Congress working president Saleem Ahmed, MLAs and workers took part in the protest in Bengaluru.

Former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda said the UP government should treat senior leaders like Rahul and Priyanka with great care. "They are fighting for a just cause. Protest is a democratic right," Gowda said.

Former CM and JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy said the UP Police's high-handedness was an attempt to take away the right to protest.

"The behaviour of the UP police in manhandling former AICC president @RahulGandhi and AICC General Secretary @priyankagandhi, who were on a walk to console the distraught parents of the Dalit girl who was raped and killed, is highly condemnable...This behaviour of UP police on the eve of birth anniversary of advocate of non-violence Mahatma Gandhi is an effort to suppress the weapon of protest in a democracy..." he tweeted. "Is it possible for police to hold the opposition party leader by his collar without the "direction" of the ruling party? This attitude is disastrous to our democracy."

RR Nagar: BJP panel plumps for Muniratna

Committee appoints 8 leaders in charge of Sira

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

KEEN on fulfilling its commitment to N Muniratna, BJP's State core committee on Thursday unanimously agreed on his candidature for the upcoming bypolls in Rajarajeshwari Nagar constituency. Muniratna was one of the former Congress-JDS MLAs who jumped ship to the BJP, resulting in the collapse of the coalition government in 2018.

The State unit has sent its recommendations for all six seats — two Assembly and four Council — for consideration of the party's Central Election Committee. Sources from the core committee said that Muniratna is the only unanimous recommendation made for Rajarajeshwari Nagar. For Sira, the core committee listed former Congress MP C P Mudalagiriappa's son Rajesh Gowda. Two other names, S R Gowda and B K Manjunath, were also discussed. The committee is said to have agreed that a Vokkaliga candidate will fare better in the constituency that also has a considerable Golla voting population.

With Rajarajeshwari Nagar seat almost secure, the BJP is deploying heavy resources in Sira assembly seat -- previously held by JDS. The core committee has appointed eight in-charges for Sira alone. No other seat has been given such priority. "Deputy Chief Ministers Govind Karjol and Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, State General Secretary N Ravikumar, B Y Vijayendra, P C Mohan, A Narayanaswamy, Poornima Srinivas and Thippeswamy have been appointed as in-charges for Sira," said Arvind Limbavali, vice president, State BJP.

The team is a lethal combination of two DyCMs -- one SC and one Vokkaliga -- office-bearers and legislators from SC/ST, Lingayat and OBC communities. With MLA Poornima Srinivas also given charge, her husband Srinivas' candidature is unlikely to progress.

The core committee discussed various issues, including KG Halli and DJ Halli violence, and Limbavali submitted a report by the party's fact-finding committee to CM B S Yediyurappa.

JDS announces candidate for MLC election

ENS @Bengaluru

THE JDS on Thursday officially announced its candidate for the upcoming MLC elections for Graduate's and Teacher's constituencies, due to be held on October 28.

The party renominated sitting MLC R Chowda Reddy Thupalli for Karnataka South East Graduates' constituency. President of Advocates Association of Bengaluru AP Ranganath, who also served as Syndicate member of Bengaluru University, will contest from the Bengaluru Teachers seat, while advocate Shivashankar Kallur will contest from Karnataka West Graduates. Thimmaiah Purle is the choice for Karnataka North East Teachers constituency. Of the four candidates, Chowda Reddy and Ranganath represent the Vokkaliga community, Kallur represents Lingayats and Purle is from Yadav Golla caste. For the Sira assembly bypolls, JDS is planning to field BS Sathyaprakash, son for late B Sathyanarayana, who passed away.

The Congress is still looking for a candidate for RR Nagar.

CONG DOESN'T HONOUR COALITION DHARMA: HDK

Bengaluru: Ruling out any alliance with Congress, former CM HD Kumaraswamy said Congress does not know how to maintain and honour 'coalition dharma'. It is a party that is not worthy of having an alliance with. A day after Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah and KPCC President D K Shivakumar ruled out any alliance with JDS, Kumaraswamy hit back at Congress in a series of tweets. "I have seen the media reports. In 2018, after assembly election results, it was the Congress that knocked on the door of former PM HD Devegowda's house. None of us went to them," he said. This Congress is not a party to have coalition with. This was 'proven' through the "bringing down" of the JDS-Congress coalition government in Karnataka, taking help of BSP MLAs to support its government in Rajasthan, and making an attempt to destabilise government in Maharashtra. Who will trust them?" he asked. ENS

MLA terms Bhavan project waste of funds, questions 4(g) exemption

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru:

KR Nagar MLA Sa Ra Mahesh on Thursday questioned the State government's decision to give 4(g) exemption under the Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurement Act for the Karnataka Bhavan project at Tirumala in Andhra Pradesh.

At an interaction with reporters here on Thursday, the former minister released a document and questioned the need to go ahead with the Rs 200-crore project and give it 4(g) exemption — the liberty to hand over a project by skipping the tender process, at a time when there is a dearth of oxygen beds and ventilators for Covid patients across the state.

"What is the need to construct the Rs 200-crore Karnataka Bhavan in Andhra Pradesh when many temples and religious places are waiting for renovation? The government's order says the project would be executed by Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam Board while the architecture, landscaping, interior design, engineering design, and technical service worth Rs 10 crore was given to a private firm," he said.

Mahesh said this took place during the tenure of IAS officer Rohini Sindhuri as commissioner of the religious and charitable endowments department. He added that 4(g) exemption is generally applicable in case of any emergency work to skip calling of tenders and avoid delay.

However, when TNIE contacted DC Rohini Sindhuri, she denied Mahesh's allegation, saying the 4(g) exemption for the project was not her decision, but that of the government.

Dasara holidays cancelled: Online classes, Vidyagama to continue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE government has cancelled Dasara holidays for schools in the state. The holidays that spanned more than three weeks were to be from October 3 to October 26.

The government has said the Vidyagama programme for government school students and online classes in private schools will continue.

The decision was announced on Thursday after Minister for Primary and Secondary Education S Suresh Kumar held a virtual discussion with primary, high school and pre-university officials.

The minister said that no decision that is detrimental to the health of the children will be taken. "As an education minister, I am the guardian of all children in the state. I too share the fear of parents for their wards. There is no urgency to start schools, nor is there any element of 'prestige' in opening schools now," he said.

On the start of offline classes for schoolers, the minister said the opinion of the public, educationists, private school administrators, parents and legislators will be sought.

An SOP is prepared to start the academic year. And some have assumed that as a cue that classes will start, he said, assuring that the government has not yet decided on the date to start offline classes. In a webinar with the minister, representatives of teachers and lecturers associations are said to have expressed their concerns about children slipping into child marriage, child labour and gambling, and being vulnerable to incidents of rape, without start of schools due to Covid-19.

Representatives reportedly suggested that classes should be started for class 10-12 students first, and then brought down to grade 7, and that Vidyagama was better held in schools.

Meanwhile, Deputy Chief Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan said that the date for opening schools and colleges will be announced soon after discussions with minister Suresh Kumar.

The UGC has given directions about the start of colleges and the government is making preparations on those lines, he said.

Economy unlocks, but health sector struggles to get back on its feet

RANJANI MADHAVAN & IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

THE first four months of the pandemic in Karnataka, after the lockdown was imposed in March, were tough on the private hospital sector. Trouble began when people stopped coming to hospitals, fearing they would contract the coronavirus.

"The moment flights were curtailed, people coming to metro cities for treatment stayed back, as mobility became a problem. After a few days, even inter-district travel was restricted, adding to the problem," said Dr Deepak Balani, Chief of Medical Services at Sakra World Hospital.

The Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry, in collaboration with Ernst and Young, conducted a study to assess the impact of Covid-19 on private hospitals and the diagnostic services sector. This was based on the last week of March 2020, when the lockdown kicked in.

"The Covid-19 pandemic caused an adverse impact on the private healthcare sector, resulting in 70%-80% drop in footfall, test volumes and 50%-70% drop in revenue in the last ten days of March. Many small hospitals and nursing homes, especially in tier-II and tier-III cities, were forced to close down operations since cash flows dried up. A possible ramp up will be gradual, taking at least three quarters to return to normalcy," the study stated.

Picking up the pieces

Since July, the sector is slowly getting back to its feet due to the Covid surge. Non-Covid services and elective surgeries are still not taking place, and are down by more than 90 per cent, Private Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association (PHANA) said.

"We thought things would improve during the Unlock phases, but in private hospitals, Covid patients make up three-fourths of footfall, and with the government capping prices, revenue in tertiary care hospitals is affected. Only about 40% of non-Covid patients are coming to hospital as they are afraid. Only 40% of surgeries are being carried out, which is a drastic fall for us," said Dr Balani.

High spend, low earnings

Apart from reduced income, private hospitals face a problem of increased expenditure.

Dr R Ravindra, Medical Director of Suguna Hospital and President of PHANA said, "Spending has increased due to cost of PPE kits, human resources are paid more to motivate them to work with Covid patients, there's bio-medical Covid waste disposal, and paid leave for healthcare workers in isolation who are accommodated in hotels."

COVIDONOMICS PART-10

"We've had to take insurance for our staff, which is added expenditure. Also, no compensation is given by the government if private healthcare professionals test positive. Private hospitals are just managing to make ends meet, and revenue has reached 80 per cent of what it was in the pre-Covid era," Dr Ravindra added.

As per the Apollo Hospitals report of Q1FY21 earnings, hospitals' standalone revenue of healthcare services decreased by 42 per cent to Rs 6,824 million, compared to Rs 11,725 million in Q1FY20.

"Karnataka region revenue degrew (decreased) by 38 per cent. Overall occupancy in the cluster was 293 beds (36% occupancy) as compared to 544 beds (71% occupancy) last year," Apollo Hospital said in a statement. On the whole, revenues degrew 16% to Rs 21,715 million, as opposed to Rs 25,719 million in Q1FY20 for this hospital group.

Job losses, pay cuts

In all, 58 small, mid-sized and large hospitals have shut down, as per PHANA. The financial situation led to layoffs, especially in hospitals attached to medical colleges, in paramedical, pharmacology, biochemistry, anatomy and other non-clinical sections.

"Salaries of doctors not involved in Covid work, like surgical departments, dental, ENT, cardiology and other non-medical specialities, have been affected, while freelancers have also taken pay cuts. Those in corporate hospitals have taken a 40-50 per cent pay cut. Some hospitals that restarted during Unlock phases are offering only Out Patient Department services," Dr Ravindra said.

Demands from private sector

The FICCI-EY study estimated an impact of Rs 14,000 to Rs 24,000 crore operating losses for the quarter. It recommended liquidity infusion, indirect and direct tax benefits, and fixed cost subsidies from the government to address the disruption. It also mooted customs duty and GST exemption on essential medicines, consumables and devices for treatment of Covid patients, and waiver or reduction of health cess on medical devices.

IIT alumnus held for faking IRCTC software

Ran two parallel businesses — dealing in bitcoins, fake rly tickets

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A 36-year-old unauthorised ticketing agent, a graduate of IIT Kharagpur, was arrested by the Railway Protection Force (RPF) on Wednesday for duplicating the IRCTC software which helped book tickets illegally. This followed a tipoff from intelligence officials in Pune. By developing a specialised software, he helped lakhs of his customers book train tickets much faster than others on the Indian Railway Catering and Ticketing Corporation (IRCTC) portal.

An FIR has been booked against him under Section 143 of the Indian Railway Act which deals with unauthorised carrying on of business of procuring and supplying railway tickets. According to RPF sources, the individual, a native of Maharashtra, had migrated to the City long ago. "He was running two parallel businesses at Basavanagudi, one dealing with Bitcoins and another was booking of railway tickets unauthorisedly," said a top cop.

His office had a database of 93,000 IRCTC login IDs, He had 4 lakh customers across the country.

Giving details, the cop said that the website has an option for auto fill-up of details so that time can be saved when it opens for Tatkal bookings at 10 am for AC class and 11 am for Sleeper Class.

"The individual has developed a low grade software and shared it with his customers so that they can fill up details on it and keep it ready and upload it the moment the site opens for bookings. For every ticket a customer books using his product, he charges Rs 30," the cop said.

He has been doing this for the last three years. "He had been permitting his clients to use the software freely for long. It was only from March that he decided to monetize it and made a business out of railway tickets," the cop explained.

Following the tip-off, summons was issued to him on Wednesday. The person arrested is the mastermind behind it and a larger group is at work.

When contacted, IRCTC officials said they had no knowledge about the auto-fill feature or other technical details and said it was all controlled in Delhi.

3 nabbed for peddling drugs, cops rewarded

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE North Division police have arrested three men, including the disc jockey at a pub, for allegedly peddling drugs in the city.

Karthik (31), Vikki alias Drugs Vikas (21), and Prem Kumar (23) were arrested by the Srirampura police on Wednesday. In total, 40 kg of marijuana and an autorickshaw and two two-wheelers were seized from them. A senior police officer said that following a tipoff, the police team started trailing the trio around 5.30 pm as they were heading towards Malleshwaram from Yeshwantpur. The accused were transporting the contraband in an auto with two of them following on two bikes. Near Aiyappa Swami temple, the police team intercepted the auto and the bikes.

Prime accused Karthik is a salesperson at a store, and was earlier arrested by the Rajajinagar police in 2019. His associate Vikki is a DJ in a pub in Koramangala, and also a part-time delivery boy with an online e-commerce company.

The officer said that the duo were in contact with inter-state drug peddlers and had been smuggling the drugs from Odisha through trains. They had regular customers who used to come to the pub to score and also sell online. Sometimes, Vikki used to deliver the drugs while working as a delivery boy.

City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant announced a reward of Rs 30,000 for the police team.

INDEPENDENCE OF WILDLIFE INSTITUTIONS INTACT: CENTRE TO HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE primary objective of establishing 19 integrated regional offices of the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change is to strengthen its outreach in a more coordinated manner through optimum utilisation of resources without impeding in any manner the independence or functional autonomy of Forest Survey of India (FSI), National Tiger Conservation Authority of India (NTCA), Central Zoo Authority (CZA) and Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB) or regional office of the ministry.

The Union Government made this submission before the division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Ashok S Kinagi on Thursday in response to a public interest petition.

In the PIL, Giridhar Kulkarni questions the notification dated August 13, 2020, issued by MoEFC for reorganisation of regional or sub-regional offices of FSI, NTCA, CZA and WCCB. He contended the notification will irreparably destroy the very existence and functioning of the four authorities and also damage the conservation machinery.

Clarifying that none of the organisations are merged, the Centre submitted that all of them will continue to carry out their mandates independently.

India becoming land of rapists: Madras HC judge

Four men held in Tiruppur for gangrape of 22-yr-old migrant worker from Assam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

OBSERVING that migrants coming to work are becoming victims of sexual assault, a division bench of the Madras High Court on Thursday directed the Inspector General of Police (Western Zone) to expedite investigation into the rape case of a migrant woman labourer near Tirupur. Justices N Kirubakaran and P Velmurugan orally made the observation, while hearing a plea seeking better facilities to the migrant population.

The 22-year-old woman from Assam, was allegedly gang raped on Monday, and four men in connection to the case were arrested the following day. The prime suspect, one among the arrested, befriended the victim, and asked her to come to Kallimedu village promising to get her a better job, the police had said, adding that she was raped by six men and robbed, after she reached the spot.

Justice Kirubakaran observed, "India, considered to be a spiritual land, is soon becoming a rapist land. Every 15 minutes, a woman is being raped". The bench also commented on the rape of a Dalit woman in Uttar Pradesh, and said there was no security for women in the country.

While directing the IG to do a proper investigation on the entire Tirupur incident, the judge also asked the victim to be provided with proper compensation.

The court, during the previous hearing, had directed the Central government's counsel to file a detailed report on the number of labourers who had died on their way to native states. The bench added that migrants were not provided with proper wages for the amount of work they were being made to do by their employers.

The judge further said that the Centre should have approached all states to collect those details, and wondered how could the union government make statements in the Parliament saying there was no data on the migrant exodus. The counsel however, sought more time to file the report. Recording the submissions, the court adjourned the plea.

The bench directed the Western Zone Inspector General of Police to expedite the probe into the case of the migrant woman labourer.

Great Indian Bustard may lose its habitat in Ballari

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Karwar

THE critically endangered Great Indian Bustard (GIB) — the largest grassland bird of India — has been almost driven away. The forest department officials at Siruguppa in Ballari district have interfered in their habitat by building watchtowers and waterholes, according to locals and wildlife enthusiasts. However, the officials have refuted the allegations.

Fifteen years after the re-discovery of GIBs at Siruguppa, the birds here are facing the threat of losing their habitat again. "These activities were not necessary as the birds are so sensitive that they will be driven away," said Santosh Martin, a wildlife enthusiast from Ballari.

Dr S K Arun, former honorary wildlife warden of Ballari, said, "The waterholes might attract more predators like dogs, which may feed on the eggs of these birds, which usually hatch on ground."

According to locals, they have not seen the birds for the past four to five months. "Earlier, the birds were spotted here regularly, but not in the recent days, especially after these buildings came up (referring to the watchtowers). But the forest personnel don't camp here," said Umesh, a resident of a village in the surrounding area.

Dr Assad R Rahmani, former director, Bombay Natural History Society and Scientific Advisor, Corbett Foundation, who has studied GIB behaviour across the country, said, "This is the breeding time for GIBs. Such human interference will drive them away. Now, we do not know whether they have found an alternative habitat to breed or not.But if things are rectified in Siruguppa, some of them might return."

GIBs in Siruguppa are significant, considering their dwindling number. The region, according to Dr Rahmani, has less than 10 birds, but it is important considering the total number of GIBs whose numbers range between 80 and 120 in the country.

However, the forest department rubbished the allegations saying that "the birds have not left the habitat".

According to a study by the department, the birds were sighted even after the construction of watchtowers. "They are around here. We have sighted GIBs many times. There might be about four birds. We cannot say they are always here," said Siddaramappa, DCF, Ballari.

'Mentally unstable' youth holds mother hostage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhubaneswar

IN a dramatic event that took place outside the Odisha Assembly's security perimeter on Thursday, a youth held his mother hostage at knife-point and accused some ruling party leaders of indulging in corruption.

The 22-year-old youth Jitendra Pal, a native of Dasapalla in Nayagarh district, threatened to kill his mother Jharana even as security personnel attempted to rescue her. He claimed that a huge amount of money was stolen from Jagannath temple at Puri and accused two ministers of indulging in corruption. "Governor, please help me, I am not mentally unstable. Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik is not corrupt but many leaders of BJD are dishonest," he said.

The officers of Commissionerate Police very tactfully engaged him in a conversation for over 15 minutes while he was holding his mother at knife-point and subsequently, overpowered him and rescued the woman.

"He is my son and he asked me to accompany him to a hospital on Thursday. But, he brought me here and caught hold of me," the woman said.

As the incident on the busy PMG square left the commuters thunderstruck, senior Congress MLA Suresh Routray charged the State Government over lax security arrangements during the Assembly session.

"I am shocked to see such a hostage situation happen in front of the Assembly that too when the House is in session. This is the failure of intelligence," he said.

Meanwhile, the Commissionerate Police asserted that there was no breach of security as adequate personnel and officers have been deployed during the ongoing Monsoon session of Assembly to maintain law and order. The police said a youth with known psychiatric ailments held his mother hostage outside the security perimeter of the State Assembly. Police officers patiently dealt with the hostage situation and safely rescued the woman.

Bhubaneswar DCP Umashankar Dash said, Jitendra had come to the Capital city with his mother on Wednesday to visit the hospital.

Cong opposed to fresh ordinances

WHILE the bills were passed in the Assembly, the government suffered a setback in the Council, where the combined strength of the Opposition Congress and JDS is more than the ruling BJP.

The Industrial Disputes amendment bill was put to vote and defeated with 21 members voting against it while only 14 voted for it.

The Opposition also stalled the government's efforts to get the APMC amendment bill and the Land Reforms amendment bill passed in the Upper House as it was adjourned sine die after the debate dragged on past midnight.

The Congress, which had opposed the bills in the House, had also approached the Governor earlier this week to urge him not to give his assent to fresh ordinances if the government plans any such move.

Among the other important issues discussed at Thursday's cabinet meeting included approvals for the special police recruitment from through sports quota, allocation of Rs 25 crore for minority education, amendment to the Karnataka State Audit and Accounts Recruitment rules and administrative approval for the purchase of safety kits for labourers registered under the labour construction board at a cost of Rs 40 crore through e-procurement.

The issue of reopening of schools and colleges was also discussed in the meeting. Among the other important issues discussed included approvals for the special police recruitment through sports

Gold smuggling case: LDF councillor Karat Faisal lands in Customs net

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kochi

IN an embarrassing development for the Left government, the Customs on Thursday took into custody an LDF councillor in connection with the gold smuggling case.

A team of officials from Customs Commissionerate (Preventive) Kochi picked up Karat Faisal, a councillor of Kaduvally municipality in Kozhikode district, from his house at 4.30am.

He was brought to the Kochi office at 12.30pm and his statement was recorded under Section 108 of the Customs Act. He will be arraigned as the 20th accused and his arrest will be recorded soon. According to Customs sources, Faisal is suspected to have played an active role by investing money for smuggling gold.

"We had interrogated some of the arrested persons in the case in jail recently. Based on the information and the probe, it's revealed that Faisal is one of the key links in the smuggling chain. He has contributed funds for procuring gold through illegal channel. He is a highly influential person with connections in political and business circles. He was involved in multiple gold smuggling cases before," a Customs official said.

Customs also seized digital devices and documents from Faisal's residence.

After recording his arrest, he would be produced before the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate (Economic Offence).

Faisal is a relative of MLA Karat Razak. Customs will seek his custody on completion of the Covid-19 test.

HATHRAS RAPE AND THE CONTINUING CURSE OF CASTE

My birth is my fatal accident," wrote Rohith Vemula, a Dalit student of Hyderabad University, days before he committed suicide in 2016. His death sparked protests against institutionalised discrimination of Dalits. Mainstream political parties and Ambedkarite groups vied with each other to galvanise a movement against continuing caste-related atrocities. But four years later, as another member of the Dalit community succumbed to injuries suffered while being raped and brutalised at a small village in Hathras, Uttar Pradesh, all the promises appear to be hollow. Vemula's words sum up what millions of Dalits face almost on a daily basis. The banning of untouchability and the passage of several laws were aimed at ending the deeply embedded caste hierarchies. It was hoped that reservation in jobs and education would give the lower castes a level-playing field. But even after 73 years of Independence, being born a Dalit is more a curse than a blessing. Casteist slurs, discrimination and prejudices run deep. Worse still is the mentality among some upper caste men who use rape as a tool to 'punish' and instil fear.

Following a national outcry, the UP government announced cash compensation, a job and a house to the rape victim's family. While this is welcome, the state and the Hathras district administration rubbed salt into the grieving family's wounds by denying them their right to give the victim a decent cremation. If the family is to be believed, the district authorities cremated the girl in the dead of the night while they were put under a house arrest of sorts. If the authorities feared that a cremation during the day, which the family pleaded for, would lead to a law-and-order situation, then it reflects poorly on their ability, and action ought to be taken against the district magistrate and the superintendent of police for incompetence.

As if this were not enough, the UP government misused its powers to prevent Rahul and Priyanka Gandhi from visiting the aggrieved family. Political leaders connecting, meeting and commiserating with the public are the essence of democracy; they should not be denied this right.

TO HELP ECONOMY, SAVE ENVIRONMENT

As the entire world continues to explore new ways to battle the coronavirus pandemic and its recurring waves, there is bad news on the climate front. The Arctic sea has recorded its second lowest ice coverage in 40 years of satellite measurements. This year, according to the National Snow and Ice Data Center (NSIDC), US, the sea ice extent has been calculated at 3.7 million sq km, the lowest levels since 2012.

This piece of news has set the alarm bells ringing. According to UNEP climate expert Pascal Peduzzi, the rate at which the Arctic sea ice is dwindling may mean that in another 20 years, the Arctic Ocean would have an ice-free summer. The global consequences are many—from the wiping out of polar bears and other animals to rising oceanic surface temperatures, changes in weather patterns and a jump in sea levels. Experts have been pointing out that Arctic sea ice has been hovering below its 40-year average for the last 18 years. There are other indicators too. According to reports, the January-July period of this year has been one of the warmest since 1880. Much of the blame, of course, goes to the greenhouse gas emissions that have been unrelenting, despite a temporary pause during the Covid-19 lockdowns.

Interestingly enough, a few days after the alarming reports came in, more than 60 heads of state pledged support to take urgent measures to reverse the loss of biodiversity by 2030. Their sense of urgency also came about a week before the crucial UN Summit on Biodiversity and also after a key review of global conservation plans showed that most nations are likely to miss major targets they had set themselves to arrest the loss of nature. A point to be noted: The latest biennial Living Planet Report by WWF makes some critical revelations—there has been a 70% decline in wild populations of animals, plants and birds since 1970. What is not to be missed is promises made by the nations to save flora and fauna are clearly not being kept despite major signals by nature. The only way to save the global economy, livelihood and health is by saving the environment. But are we ready to pay heed?

The Centre has still been using the language of welfare, while what it intends to do is precisely the opposite of it—to extricate the government and allow market control

FARM LEGISLATIONS, INTENT AND A MAP OF MISTIMING

Before and after the passing of the three agriculture reform legislations, a lot of analysis and commentary on their objectives and effects has appeared. Both Houses of Parliament have seen truncated debates, and protests on the streets have been reasonably well covered after some initial hesitation. Remember, the Ordinances were issued at the beginning of June but peak coverage happened three months later, around September 14, when the Monsoon Session of Parliament was slated to begin.

However, there are two aspects that have not been delved into sufficiently. One has to do with the strategic mistiming of the government in introducing agriculture reforms, and two, the true intent behind the legislations. Of course, questions have been asked as to why the Bills were passed in such a tearing hurry, but there has been little exploration into the Modi government's propensity for bad timing. When it comes to intent, the government has still been using the language of welfare, while what it intends to do is precisely the opposite of it, that is to extricate the government and allow market control.

Starting with the aspect of Modi government's recurring errors with timing, the first big example, and one that takes the crown, is demonetisation from November 2016. At that point, the economy was shaping up, the GDP was close to 7%, crude oil prices were sliding for over a year, and inflation was manageable. Instead of constructively channelling these relative advantages, ₹500 and ₹1,000 currency notes were made invalid overnight. The economy was given such a shock treatment that it has refused to recover since. Mostly, it was the small and medium scale industries, and those in the unorganised sector that were felled. The big and mighty found ways to exchange their currency and stabilise their ships.

The second example could be from the early months of Modi's second term: the reading down of Article 370, and stripping the statehood of Jammu and Kashmir. This fulfilled an ideological desire but it may have triggered geostrategic and economic implications that are still unfolding. China had never stretched its muscle along the LAC since 1962 as much as it has in recent months, and Ladakh is never out of news. A creative relationship with China was important for our scheme of things, and one thought from the prime minister's numerous meetings with the Chinese leadership that he thought so too.

Another big item on the bad-timing list is the unplanned lockdown and the devastating sight of millions of migrants packing up from the cities to trek back to their rural safety. Now, the farm legislations appear to have followed them on their village tracks to accentuate their instability. Agriculture was the only sector looking up when the economy looked defeated with the GDP at a negative growth high of minus 23.9%. Monsoon rains have not let us down so far, rabi harvest has been bountiful, and kharif sowing has exceeded expectations. But the farm legislations have suddenly injected uncertainty into the rural economy. It was not the best time for such gargantuan reforms. Psychologically, people wanted to hear and feel continuity. They wanted to be assured that normalcy would return soon, but that is clearly not the message going out. Governments are not expected to have empathy, but they are expected to deliberate assiduously on the timing of their moves. The only timing that the Modi government appears to have got right so far is the Balakot air strikes before the 2019 general elections.

> It was not the best time for such gargantuan reforms. Psychologically, people wanted to hear and feel continuity. ... Governments are not expected to have empathy, but they are expected to deliberate assiduously on the timing of their moves

Coming to the intent behind the legislations, it is clear that the government wants to change the characterisation of both farmers and agriculture. A Niti Aayog vision document (New India@75) from November 2018, endorsed by the prime minister, clearly says that in "agriculture emphasis must shift to converting farmers to agripreneurs". This is a huge cultural shift since farmers and farming are never imagined as a business or entrepreneurship in our country. They have always been assigned a pivotal social role and are part of a nationalistic pairing alongside soldiers: 'Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan.' But the farm legislations aim to end this and move from mandis, with government and community oversight, to private markets. The document does not hide anything. It speaks of agriculture as agribusiness; it says futures trade should be encouraged; it talks of contract farming and agricultural land leases as well as inclusion of private traders. But the biggest giveaway is that it says the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP), an institution that fixes the minimum support price (MSP) of 23 commodities, should be replaced by farm tribunals, and MSP itself should be replaced with minimum reserve price (MRP). A mention of tribunals in the place of CACP is admission that dealing with private players is bound to create a plethora of disputes. This stated intent does not blend with the fire-dousing rhetoric we are hearing from the government's side as protests have gone on.

The prime minister has spoken of doubling farmers' income by 2022 and eliminating middlemen. Neither of it will be achieved. In fact, the new legislations will make farmers seek more intermediaries as they shift to an individual, knowledge-based system from a community-based system. Experts have already pointed out that commodity trading has not worked for even US and European farmers, where 50% of agricultural subsidies come in the form of direct income support. It is an irony that when the government is talking of public spending and economic stimulus packages to beat the pandemic blues, the weakest in the chain, the farmers, are being thrown to the mercy of the markets. The intent is clear and the mistiming too.

LIVING IN THE SHADOW OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT

MAANSI KUMAR

Works at an ed-tech start-up in Gurgaon

The lockdown in India brought to light many things about our country, the good and bad alike. Among these was the plight of one group of people in particular: migrant workers. They have not only been politically ignored, but also continue to be perceived as an inconvenience by most urban Indians.

A few months ago, there was a sudden surge in media coverage about migrant workers in India, perhaps for the first time at such a magnitude. But now, these workers have been sidelined once again.

Statistically, migrant workers make up about 35% of India's urban population, according to a recent National Institute of Urban Management (NIUM) study conducted in Hyderabad to analyse the impact of the lockdown on them. While theory suggests that migrant workers move from more impoverished to less impoverished states, this is not entirely true, considering that Bihar and Kerala have comparable rates of out-migration within the country. Hence, a large part of domestic migration from rural to urban areas for employment is caused by movement away from regions in the countryside with high population density.

Upon moving to urban areas, most migrants are engaged in the construction and hospitality sectors, both of which have high risks of worker exploitation and unsafe working conditions. About 20% of such jobs employ daily wage workers, which increases their vulnerability due to high job volatility. Some are employed through informal contractors, further decreasing their job security.

Their well-being is hampered by a lack of access to basic services like healthcare, sanitation, safe water supply and transportation. Migrant workers almost always have to bear out-of-pocket the cost of medical ailments or injuries suffered at work. As a result, many end up not seeking treatment at all. They also end up consuming fewer calories per rupee. They bring food preferences from their native places and end up paying higher values for them in urban areas. All of this adversely affects maternal health and can have the unintended result of further affecting cognitive development and health of their children.

Domestic migration also has other layered implications for women. Many are "left behind" in their native place, contributing to the feminisation of the agricultural workforce. However, these women are still unable to fully exercise their decision-making powers in such cases, given that a shockingly disproportionate percentage of land ownership titles are held by men. Women themselves also constitute a significant part of the migrant worker population. In addition to the aforementioned sectors, they are also employed in beauty and health parlours, garment factories, and as domestic help, live-in maids, and nurses, among other occupations.

While remittances improve the livelihoods of those without better opportunities, and cheap labour ensures the functioning of different sectors of our economy, it becomes imperative to ask: Whose living standards are being improved by domestic migration? The answer is clear. The living standards of everyone besides the migrants themselves, who continue to work in extremely vulnerable conditions. Migrant workers, as a group, are among the most neglected strata of our society.

One wonders why there has been such a lackadaisical attitude towards them. It seems primarily because migrant workers have extremely low electoral participation levels. In a study conducted by Nikhar Gaikwad and Gareth Nellis, it was found that they are less likely to receive a call back from political representatives as compared to other segments of the population. It was also observed that for myopic political gains, migrant workers are often used as a prop to generate a nativist sentiment to garner votes, observed prominently in Maharashtra, for instance. This is done by portraying migrant workers as "outsiders" who are out to steal the jobs of natives, whereas in reality, their engagement in the labour force has been the backbone of economic growth in the country. In fact, almost all migrant workers send significant remittances to their native places, spurring economic growth and livelihood rejuvenation in areas that were becoming stagnant.

> Domestic migration has layered implications for women. Many are 'left behind' in their native place, contributing to the feminisation of the agricultural workforce. But these women are still unable to fully exercise their decision-making powers in such cases, given that a shockingly disproportionate percentage of land ownership titles are held by men

In his book India Moving, Chinmay Tumbe states that nativism is mostly a convenient ruse for political gain based on faulty evidence. He highlights that cultural differences in India that spark nativism and discrimination manifest from identities such as language, religion, caste and race (especially for migrants from the Northeastern regions of India).

It hence becomes the ethical responsibility of the country and its citizens to be more aware of their plight and grant them the same basic human rights we all feel entitled to. These include the right to shelter, water, job security, health insurance and the ability to engage politically meaningfully, at the bare minimum.

The NIUM survey recommends some ways to accommodate their issues. It suggests the creation of a helpline designed specifically to address concerns regarding their employment, safety, healthcare and such. The need to ensure legal identity proof and documentation for migrant workers was especially emphasised to reduce the risk of exploitation. Among other things, there should be a creche and schooling facility in their native language close to their workplace, health and life insurance cover, the right to have dignified and affordable living conditions and the provision to visit their native place once a year with paid leave entitlement. Finally, it suggested the creation of a job portal for migrant workers, highlighting that about 50% either lost their jobs or faced a decrease in income since the lockdown began.

While these are important recommendations, the labourers themselves stated only basic needs like water, sanitation, health insurance and ease of transport. In addition to this, urban India must make sure that the migrant worker label is destigmatised and ensure they are treated with the same dignity that we expect ourselves to be treated by the institutions we are a part of.

Enforce stringent laws

The gang-rape in Hathras makes one wonder why the government is not enforcing stringent laws. It is shameful that in a country where women are personified as Goddesses, they are being treated without the least sense of humanity. The UP government must deal with this with an iron hand.

Narayani P, Mayiladuthurai

Where are we going wrong?

There has been another shocking gang-rape in Balrampur. Stricter laws and their implementation are needed. It's crucial to know where we are going wrong. It's our responsibility to protect our daughters from these gruesome happenings.

Divya Althi, Vizianagaram

Advani's comments

Earlier, L K Advani had said the day Babri masjid was demolished was the saddest of his life. Now he says, after having been allowed to walk free by a CBI Court, that his acquittal is a vindication of the Ram Janmabhoomi Movement. What a fall.

P G Menon, Chennai

Land of tolerance

India has been a land of tolerance for centuries, though thousands of temples across the country and the architectural treasures inside them were destroyed by iconoclasts. There is proof that a temple was present at the site where Babri was constructed. This should be kept in mind when the issue is discussed.

Varadharajan A, Sirkazhi

CBI & its political masters

The special judge held the CBI responsible for failure in basic norms. As evidence, only photocopies were submitted. Audio cassettes given were tampered ones. This shows how far the CBI shall go to please its political masters.

Asokan Kunnummal, Kozhikode

They caged the parrot

The destruction of the Babri masjid was a violation of rule of law, as was held by the SC. But that alone is not enough to prove a conspiracy. As expected, opposition parties are up in arms. But their target looks vague. They claim the CBI is a 'caged parrot' when they have contributed to caging it while in power.

SPB deserves Bharat Ratna

The Andhra CM has rightly written a letter to the PM requesting him to confer the Bharat Ratna on S P Balasubrahmanyam, citing the enormity of the singer's contributions—including 40,000 songs in Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Kannada, Hindi, etc. The PM, as one interested in the cultural unity of the nation, should be willing to honour the vocalist.

His wife's contribution

The entire music world condoled the legend's death. I wish to acknowledge the great support of his spouse Savitri, without which it wouldn't have been easy for him to achieve this level of success.

Asha Chandrashekar, Bengaluru

Disgraceful acts of cops

It is disgraceful that a DG-rank IPS officer in Bhopal mercilessly beat his wife. Further, an ex-DGP and ex-IGP of Punjab were named as accused in a murder case. If such police officers are in service, only God can save the country.

Physical campus needed

The author of Why the campus is forever (Sep 29) is right in saying that without a physical campus, learning is not complete. Learning happens through interactions among pupils, and not just due to those between teacher and student. For now, online teaching will continue, but this will not last forever.

'We shouldn't wait for a perfect vaccine for Covid-19'

COVID-19 is less deadlier than the other coronaviruses and if we find a vaccine that's 70-80% efficacious, it will decrease the disease in the population by 50% or more, said microbiologist and vaccine scientist Dr Gagandeep Kang*. She was in conversation with* author and senior journalist Kaveree Bamzai in TNIE Expressions, a series of live webcasts with people who matter.

It's been over six months since the Covid-19 pandemic hit the globe. What is it that we have learnt so far that can help us going forward?
One of the things we have learnt so far is this virus behaves in a predictable fashion. ...By and large, it is behaving like most RNA viruses which cause mucosal infection...This virus does not kill a lot of people that it infects — the numbers are scary because of how infectious this virus is. ...Not everybody infected is going to get severely ill or die. In fact, it's a lot less deadlier than the other coronaviruses that we have dealt with, such as SARS and MERS. Here we are seeing mortality of less than 1%. What we should worry about is the unpredictability as to who will develop a severe disease. We have some clues such as age, co-morbidities, but some young people also badly get sick when 20 others of the same age around them get only asymptomatic infection. That's because it's not only about viruses but also hosts — some hosts react differently to the virus. There are signals but we don't have a clear understanding of what actually happens in such cases.

When do you think a vaccine against Covid-19 can be available?
We will see the interim analysis of at least 3-4 vaccines under phase 3 trial sometime this year. We will know whether those results are going to work or not. If we are lucky and one or more vaccines have good results then it's possible that a few doses might be available this year. But having enough of the vaccine and the distribution part may not be possible before mid-2021, if not later.

While some people want to be absolutely sure that the vaccines are safe and effective before being rolled out, there are political pressures, in India and other countries, to get the vaccines quickly. How can that be balanced?
One thing seems almost clear — it's not going to be a perfect vaccine, certainly not the first-generation vaccine. That's why the WHO, USFDA and now the Indian drug regulator have said that the vaccine needs to prevent disease in 50% of the people vaccinated. We may find a vaccine that's 70-80% efficacious — it still has value because it will decrease the disease in the population by 50% or more. It means we are that much closer to herd immunity, so I don't think we should wait for a perfect vaccine. But two things are very important—testing the vaccines on thousands of people and generating safety data from those people.

In case of mucosal infection, vaccines may not protect against infection but will protect against serious diseases

Dr Gagandeep Kang, microbiologist and vaccine scientist

We have seen in some cases, like HIV, that even after research spanning decades, we don't have a vaccine yet. Could that be a possibility in case of Covid-19?
In case of HIV, we could not have the vaccine because that affects immune cells, it destroys the immune system which is not what we are seeing in case of SARS CoV-2. It sets up autoimmunity but doesn't go and infect the cells that make up the immune system.

Row over 'rape' in Rajasthan's Baran district

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

AMID outrage over the Hathras gang rape, two teenage girls were allegedly raped by two youths in Baran district of Rajasthan. The state police and government, however, said the girls in their statements before the magistrate had "accepted" that they had gone with the boys on their own and that a medical examination had not confirmed rape.

The girls' father reportedly told the police that the two accused lured his minor daughters, aged 13 and 15, on the night of September 18 to leave Baran with them. They were taken to Kota, Jaipur and Ajmer and were allegedly raped for three days. The family alleged the girls were threatened not to file a complaint.

The two girls were found in Kota on September 21. But the police claimed they had denied allegations of rape in their statement before a magistrate. The girls were handed over to their families after their statements were recorded.

CM Ashok Gehlot took to Twitter on Thursday and attacked the Opposition and some sections of the media for misleading the public by comparing the Baran incident with the gruesome Hathras case.

"...The incident in Baran district of Rajasthan is being compared to the incident in Hathras. Girls in the Baran case have given their statement before the magistrate that they had gone with the boys on their own," Gehlot tweeted. "Further investigation is on in the matter," the CM added.

ANOTHER DALIT RAPED & MURDERED IN UP; 2 HELD

Balrampur victim left home for work on Sept 29, returned next day

Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra on their way to Hathras in Uttar Pradesh along with party workers to meet the family members of the Dalit woman who was gang-raped two weeks ago and died on Tuesday; (left) there was a heavy police presence in the village of the victim on Thursday also | PTI

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

WITH the fire of Hathras rape-murder case still smouldering, another rape case involving a Dalit woman has come to light in Balrampur district in central UP. The victim died after being allegedly sexually assaulted by two youths from another community in the Gaisri police station area of the district. The accused, Shahid and Sahil, have been arrested.

Balrampur SP Dev Ranjan Verma said as per the complaint filed at Gaisri police station, the victim worked at a private firm. She had left home to her work on Tuesday, but did not return till late at night.

Early Wednesday, the girl came home on a rickshaw in a bad condition with glucose drip attached. She was immediately taken to a community health centre but died on the way.

The SP said the victim's family in the complaint alleged that the two suspects, after raping her, took her to a hospital. As her condition deteriorated, they sent her back home. "We have registered an FIR of rape and murder and the two accused have been arrested and sent to jail," he added.

The police have not stated officially if a medical examination has confirmed rape.

DIG of Devipatan range, Rakesh Singh said shock and hemorrhage were cited as the cause of her death in the post-mortem report. "The sexual assault will be confirmed by medical experts," he said.

The victim's mother alleged that the perpetrators had drugged her by injecting some substance due to which she had lost consciousness. She said the accused after raping her, broke her legs and back.

She said soon after her return, her daughter had complained of a burning pain in her stomach. "The doctor at the local hospital said her condition is serious and advised that she be taken to Lucknow. But she died when we were near Balrampur town," she said.

After autopsy, the police handed over her body to her relatives who cremated her on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, former CM of UP Akhilesh Yadav cautioned the Adityanath government against attempting a "cover-up" in the Hathras case.

Dalit leaders in BJP fear case may impact polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

WITH the UP government under fire over the Hathras incident, BJP leaders claimed the matter was being blown out of proportion.

Senior party leader and former Union Minister Sanjay Paswan said, "Prime Minister Narendra Modi is on the job, having asked CM Yogi Adityanath for strict action."

"Hathras incident is being exaggerated and there are clear hints of media trials going on, which should be avoided. The PM has already asked the chief minister for actions, and we should wait," he said.

Paswan, who was a Union Minister of state for HRD in the Atal Bihari Vajpayee government, said the Hathras incident is a pointer to access to pornographic contents on the social media platforms. "There is an urgent need to discipline the social media. There should be a thorough probe in the incident, but the media trial should be avoided," said Paswan.

However, there appears apprehension among the Dalit leaders within the BJP. "The incident has come on the eve of the by-elections for seven assembly seats in UP, besides the Bihar assembly polls. The incident is likely to be a talking point among the people in the elections. It should be addressed politically," said a senior Dalit leader of the BJP.

The BJP had made significant inroads in the Dalit vote bank on the back of the implementation of central schemes, which had delivered rich dividends to it in 2019 elections.

BABRI CASE

'CBI did not probe Pak conspiracy angle'

KANU SARDA @New Delhi

THE special court while acquitting the 32 accused in the Babri Masjid demolition case pointed that the CBI did not probe on an important secret information that people from Pakistan's intelligence agency may have also entered and damaged the religious structures.

Special Judge S K Yadav in his 2,300-page verdict said the CBI's case became weaker in view of the fact that it did not probe and ruled out the Pakistan angle to the demolition to make the criminal conspiracy charge stand the judicial scrutiny.

Persons related to Pak intel agencies... may create unrest by damaging the structure. These aspects were not investigated

Special judge S K Yadav

The court said the CBI's allegations against the accused persons including senior BJP leaders L K Advani, M M Joshi, Kalyan Singh and others become forceless also because it did not investigate a report sent by Local Intelligence Unit (LIU) on December 5, 1992, that the next day, some persons from Pakistani intelligence agencies may cause damage to the disputed structure.

The court noted there were reports that explosives originated from Pakistan had reached Ayodhya via Delhi, while another intelligence report had warned that about 100 persons from Udhampur in J&K are coming to Ayodhya in the garb of kar sevaks.

The court cited an LIU report that said, "persons related to Pakistani intelligence agencies have merged with the masses in Ayodhya and may create unrest in the state and the country by damaging the disputed structure with explosives and other means". "Despite having such crucial information, these aspects were not investigated," the judge noted.

INDIA HITS OUT AT PAK COMMENT ON VERDICT

NEW DELHI: India on Thursday reacted to Pakistan terming the Babri Masjid demolition case verdict as shameful saying t Islamabad did not understand the ethos of a mature democracy like India.

"India is a mature democracy where the Government and citizens abide by the verdicts of the Court and show respect for the rule of law. It may be difficult for a system with a coercive apparatus where people and the courts can be silenced at the will of the establishment, to understand such democratic ethos," Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

A special CBI court had on Wednesday acquitted 32 accused in the case saying there was not enough evidence to convict them.

The Pakistan Foreign Office condemned the verdict saying it was shameful acquittal of those responsible for demolishing the mosque. "Pakistan urges the Indian government to ensure safety, security and protection of minorities, particularly Muslims and their places of worship," it said. ENS

'Police response shoddy'

"SO, to presume that rape did not happen just because semen was not found is an erroneous conclusion. It is more so given the fact that the medical examination was conducted eight days after the incident," said Vikram Singh.

He described the response of the UP police as "shoddy and unprofessional".

Another former UP police chief, who did not wish to be named, said it was "obvious that the UP police have jumped to conclusions. As per law, the so-called absence of semen is not enough to conclude that the woman was not raped, especially when we know there were injuries to her private parts."

A T Ansari, who was a special prosecutor in the Nirbhaya case, said: "The existing law has changed the definition of rape. It has also done away with the two-finger test used by doctors on victims to establish rape."

Meanwhile, the Allahabad High Court took suo motu cognizance of the case.

Athawale to meet Hathras victim's family

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

UNION Minister of State for Social Justice and Empowerment Ramdas Athawale has said he will meet the family of the Hathras rape-murder victim on October 3 "if the police allow me". "I have already put up my request with the state government," he said.

Athawale said opposition parties should not politicise the incident, though they have the right to protest and visit the victim's family.

The Opposition had hit out at the minister for taking actor

Payal Ghosh, who has accused filmmaker Anurag Kashyap of sexual harassment, to the Maharashtra Governor while not saying a word on the Hathras rape victim.

Athawale told this paper on Thursday that crimes against women, particularly Dalits, have increased. "But I think this is more of a social problem. Dalits have become more assertive about their rights due to education and prosperity. Therefore, clashes between them and the upper castes have increased more in rural areas than in cities," Athawale said.

He said UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath was his friend who would do everything to stop such crimes. "I feel sorry for the Hathras girl and her family. I condemn the incident," said Athawale.

Multiple points of convergence between Gandhiji's thoughts and NEP

RAMESH POKHRIYAL NISHANK
Union Minister for Education

MAHATMA Gandhi's message of truth and non-violence is still relevant for the peace, progress, and development of the world," Prime Minister Narendra Modi stated while addressing the 74th United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) at Mahatma Gandhi's 150th birth anniversary last year. In this article, I would like to focus on National Education Policy (NEP) and how it relies heavily on Gandhiji's thought.

To revolutionise the education system, Gandhiji started for "a true system of education". The experimentation started from Tolstoy Farms, where the seeds of Nai Talim (new education) were sown. Post coming back to India, his work in Wardha and Sevagram enabled him to set up the roots of the basic education system — a system where education is free and compulsory, provided in the mother tongue. The process of education was centred on manual and productive work, which is close to the child's environment.

Gandhiji's efforts emerged as the magma of education revolution fulfilling his dreams of an education system where the students are prepared for national society with the roots entrusted in economic, political, cultural good of the nation with truth and non-violence as the basic tenets. His experiments provided imperishable insights that are relevant to date. Gandhiji's principles do not just belong to India but the whole world. Therefore, while interacting with DG, UNESCO, I reiterated the message of truth and non-violence to be spread for the world as a whole.

The National Education Policy, also, embellishes the vision of Gandhiji while paving its strategies for meeting the 21st century needs and demands. There are four ways that his system of education appears to be pertinent to present debates on education both in India and across the globe. The first is 'education for peace'. The students should be prepared for the peaceful and cooperative living. Nai Talim was the expression of the same. The fundamental principle of the NEP is to develop good human beings capable of who can contribute to the development of a plural, yet equitable and inclusive society with the qualities of rationality, compassion, empathy, resilience, scientific temper and creativity along with upholding of ethics and values.

The second point Gandhiji emphasised was that the mother tongue should be a central place in education as a child learns best in his mother tongue. He believed that teaching in a foreign medium deprives the students of the spiritual and social heritage of the nation. Echoing his principles, the NEP promotes multilingualism while stating that 'wherever possible', the medium of instruction should be the mother tongue, home/local/regional language. A multitude of initiatives has been proposed in the NEP for the promotion and conservation of the languages of India.

Thirdly, he believed that manual training is the only means of stimulating the intellect. Vocational education should not be taught mechanically but scientifically. The dignity of labour should be protected. With the advent of NEP, there will be no rigid separations between arts and sciences, between curricular and extra-curricular activities, between vocational and academic streams. The NEP sets the target aligning with Gandhiji's vision that by 2025, at least 50% of across the school and higher education system will be provided exposure to vocational education. The integration of vocational education will start in middle school and will be adequately incorporated into higher education in a phased wise manner.

Lastly, the real goals of education cannot be obtained without a teacher. A teacher is the bedrock of the education system. Gandhiji believed that the teacher must touch the heart and soul of the students while channelling their aspirations. The teacher must be adequately paid. The Ministry of Education 2022 will develop national Professional Standards for Teachers as recommended in NEP. The standards would help to determine aspects related to teacher career management, including tenure, professional development efforts, salary increases, promotions and other recognitions.

I can draw endless similarities between Gandhiji's vision and NEP and each point makes me realise that the type of the education system shaped by him holds it meaning even today. It is a foundation for us to beacon the aspirations for the 21st century. The education policy propagates 5 Is — Indian, International, Impactful, Interactive, Inclusive.

Thus, I propose that we should mark the 151st birth anniversary of Gandhiji by inviting the states, academicians, VCs, teachers and parents for shaping the holistic development of students.

Farmers' protest, Akali marches bring Punjab to a standstill

SAD chief Sukhbir and his wife Harsimrat detained at the outskirts of Chandigarh

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SHIROMANI Akali Dal (SAD) president Sukhbir Singh Badal and his wife Harsimrat Kaur Badal were among scores of party leaders detained by the Punjab Police when they tried to enter Chandigarh with their massive rallies from two sides.

Elsewhere, farmers intensified their protests with the protestors squatting outside the residences of the BJP leaders and laying siege offices of multinational firms as well as malls, petrol pumps and toll plazas. Thirty-one farmer unions are extending the 'rail roko' stir for an indefinite period at more places 24 places in Punjab of which a dozen in Malwa, at eight places in Majha and the rest in Doaba.

"We are getting massive support from the public from today as an indefinite rail roko began at more than two dozen places. There were dharnas at establishments owned by Reliance, Essar and Adani groups," Bhartiya Kisan Union (Rajewal Group) president Balbir Singh Rajewal. Dharnas were held outside the houses of BJP leaders including former BJP president Shwait Malik in Amritsar, Union Minister Som Parkash in Phagwara, former cabinet minister Manoranjan Kalia in Jalandhar, BJP MLA Arun Narang in Abohar, BJP Punjab Kisan Morcha president Bikramjeet Singh Cheema in Ludhiana.

On October 7, farmers unions will meet in Chandigarh to chalk out their course of action in their ongoing protest against the recently passed agri legislations.

The SAD, meanwhile, launched three 'kisan marches' to Chandigarh against the new farm laws and planned to submit a memorandum to the Governor. Sukhbir headed the march from Akal Takht in Amritsar while his wife and former union minister Harsimrat Kaur Badal was in charge of another procession which began from Bathinda. The Badals were detained when their processions reached the outskirts of Chandigarh. "We are being arrested for speaking out for the rights of farmers, but we are pursuing the truth and our force will not be silenced," Harsimrat tweeted.

The Chandigarh Police resorted to lathi-charge and used water cannon in order to disperse the crowd at Mullanpur and later detained Sukhbir and other leaders. The police released them later.

2 mn signatures to be collected

In Chhattisgarh, Congress will carry out a campaign to collect signatures of two million farmers. The party declared to launch the drive at every district on October 2. The signature campaign will continue till October 31 during which the party workers have been asked to visit each and every household of farmers.

Gehlot govt looks for legal options

The Ashok Gehlot government decided to explore legal ways for blocking the three agri laws passed by Parliament. It plans to bring in its own Bills in the Rajasthan Assembly. The ruling Congress will also higlight the "unacceptable" anti-farmers' provisions in the "draconian"laws.

ICMR moots Covid therapy without trial

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE ICMR announced a new therapy for Covid-19 on Thursday which is set to be approved for treatment and prevention of the disease even though it has not undergone any safety or efficacy trials yet.

In a series of tweets, the health research body announced that it had, along with Hyderabad-based Biological E Limited, had developed highly purified antisera for prophylaxis and treatment of Covid-19. It added that such measures have previously been used to control many viral and bacterial infections.

"Although, plasma recovered from patients experiencing Covid-19 could serve a similar purpose, the profile of antibodies, their efficacy and concentration keep varying from one patient to another and therefore make it an unreliable clinical tool for patient management," the research body said.

ICMR chief scientist Samiran Panda said it was a "great product based on neutralising antibodies raised in horses which were given antigens and is set to be launched now."

"We have approached the drug regulator for permission to allow the product as an investigational therapy in the country and it will come through soon," he said.

On being asked whether the safety and efficacy trials had been conducted to assess that the antisera work in case of Covid-19, he said that trial may or may not take place.

Three southern states top the list

Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Maharashtra accounted for most of the deaths even though the overall caseload has been highest in Maharashtra ever since the pandemic hit India.

'One in three docs dying of Corona'

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

GENERAL practitioners suffered the most when it came to Covid fatalities among Indian medical professionals while paediatricians were most affected among specialists, according to the first formal analysis of the pandemic's impact on the community.

By September 10, a total of 382 Covid related deaths and 2,174 infections were reported amongst doctors with a Case Fatality Rate of 16.7% — ten times than of the general population (1.7%).

Among the practising doctors, excluding resident doctors and house surgeons, the CFR was 36.4%, which is almost 22 times more than in the general population. "It means that every one in three practising doctors in the country who is contracting the infection is eventually dying and it's mostly those above 60 who are the most susceptible," said Dr Krishan Mohan Kapoor, lead author of the paper.

Doctors above 60 years of age should be convinced not to expose themselves to patients till the pandemic stabilises and the younger lot should take charge, he added.

Doctors above 60 years of age should be convinced not to expose themselves to patients till the pandemic stabilises and the younger lot should take charge

Dr KM Kapoor, lead author of study

While majorly hit was general practitioners 225(58.9%), paediatricians 26(6.8%), medical specialists 24(6.3%), general surgeons 22(5.8%), obstetricians and gynecologists 16(4.2%), and anaesthesiologists 14(3.7%) were particularly susceptible among the specialists.

"It can be explained by that fact that GPs, paediatricians, medical specialists and general surgeons see a varied section of patients whereas super-specialists have a very specific clientele," Kapoor pointed out. "In India, healthcare workers, especially in general practice, are at higher risk of getting COVID-19 due to the relatively large volume of patients attended and frequently congested working conditions at workplaces."

Physicians working in the airway such as dentists, ENT surgeons, and anaesthesiologists are also at high risk, and this group comprised 6.5% of the physician deaths in India, as per the analysis.

Rahul to join tractor rallies in Punjab, Haryana minister vows to stop him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chandigarh

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi and Punjab CM Amarinder Singh will lead tractor rallies from October 3 to October 5 in protest against the Union Government's new agriculture laws. All the Punjab ministers and Congress MLAs will participate in the protest rallies, and so will AICC general secretary in-charge of state affairs, Harish Rawat and PCC chief Sunil Jakhar.

The rallies, the party said, were being held to give voice to the angst and pain of the farmers, whose livelihood and future has been put at stake by the central legislations.

The tractor rallies, expected to be supported by farmer organisations, will cover more than 50 kilometres spread over three days in various districts and constituencies, according to a Congress spokesperson.

It is learnt that the Congress is hoping that all the disgruntled leaders, including Navjot Singh Sidhu, will come on one platform to put up a show of unity.

The protest rally will start with a public meeting at Badni Kalan in Moga district, before moving through Lopon, Jagraon, Chakar, Lakha and Manoke before culminating eventually at Jattpura.

But Rahul's plan faces an obstacle as the Haryana Police is unlikely to allow him entry from Punjab through Pehowa border. Haryana Home Minister Anil Vij announced that Rahul will not be allowed to enter the state at any cost. "Rahul can do whatever he likes in Punjab but not Haryana."

Bihar alliance talks on seat-sharing continue on first day of filing papers

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

THE seat-sharing talks within the ruling JD-U-led NDA as well as the RJD-led 'grand alliance' in Bihar continued even on the first day of filing nominations on Thursday, indicating hard bargaining by alliance partners.

Chirag Paswan has toughened his stand on the number of seats his LJP wants to contest, deepening the rift within the NDA. The LJP has declared that if its demand for 42 seats is not met, the party would go it alone and field candidates in 143 constituencies out of the total 243 seats.

Lead NDA partners, the JD-U and the BJP, had long meetings at the residences of Nitish Kumar and Sushil Kumar Modi, but the outcome was not known.

NDA sources said a split in the alliance appeared possible though efforts are being made prevent it.

"If the LJP breaks away, it will affect both BJP and JD-U", said a senior NDA leader. "We are at our wits end insofar as the LJP is concerned. We want to clear up seat-sharing by Friday," said another NDA leader.

91 sensitive segments

The Election Commission has identified 91 expenditure sensitive constituencies in 28 districts of Bihar. To monitor these districts, the poll panel has decided to depute two senior IAS officers in the eastern state.

Things are almost the same in the RJD-led 'grand alliance'. RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav has held several rounds of talks with Congress leaders at his residence. But no decision has yet been taken on the number of seats the alliance partners would contest.

The sources said that Congress has given a list of 75 seats to the RJD. Two days ago the RJD made it clear that it will give the Congress 58 assembly seats and the Valmiki Nagar Lok Sabha seat which will witness by-poll on November 7.

The Congress screening committee held a meeting in the national capital which was attended by party general secretary Avinash Pandey, Bihar unit president Madan Mohan Jha and CLP leader Sadanand Singh to discuss a way out.

THE judgement noted that no factory could have been exempt from provisions of the Factories Act, unless there is 'internal disturbance' causing a public emergency.

"The economic slowdown created by the Covid-19 pandemic does not qualify as an internal disturbance threatening the security of the state," the order stated.

The apex court observed that workers' right to life is not conditional and their overtime wages and decent working conditions must not be denied because of the pandemic.

Gujarat Mazdoor Sabha and the CITU had moved the SC against the Gujarat government's April 17 notification.

The SC directed that overtime wages be paid to all eligible workers who have been working since issuance of the notifications

3 jawans killed, 5 injured in Pak shelling

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THREE soldiers were killed and five others injured in Pakistani firing and mortar shelling along the Line of Control (LoC) in Jammu and Kashmir on Thursday.

Pakistani troops fired from automatic weapons and resorted to mortar shelling on army positions and civilian areas at Naugam sector in Kupwara district in the morning, defence spokesperson Colonel Rajesh Kalia said.

Six soldiers manning their posts sustained injuries of which two succumbed to their injuries. The four injured soldiers were evacuated to military hospital in Srinagar, the defence spokesperson said.

Colonel Kalia said the army gave befitting response to the ceasefire violation by the Pakistani troops.

Earlier, Pakistani troops had breached border ceasefire Krishna Ghati Sector of Poonch in Wednesday night and targeted army positions and posts. Two soldiers had sustained injuries in the cross-border firing of which one died. The intensity of ceasefire violations have increased after the Centre scrapping Article 370 in August last year.

Amit Shah to put Bengal BJP unit in order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

CALLING for unity within the party ranks amid reports of faction-fighting, former BJP chief Amit Shah on Thursday asked the Bengal unit leaders to build the party campaign for the next year's Assembly elections.

Shah is likely to visit Bengal before Durga Puja for giving a push to the party's campaign.

Besides Shah, BJP chief J P Nadda, Bengal in-charge Kailash Vijayvargia took stock of the political situations with the state leadership, which included Dilip Ghosh, Mukul Roy and Rahul Sinha. "The state unit was asked to build the ground by focusing on the issues like the Trinamool government not implementing the central schemes - Ayushman Bharat and PM Kisan Nidhi. The state unit was asked to focus on corruption at the local level," a party insider said.

Sinha is said to be unhappy with the party brass promoting outsiders like Mukul Roy and Anupam Hazra in the state. He had even let his disappointment known after the reshuffle in the party's ranks.

Shah is learnt to have asked the party leaders to close the ranks and put up an aggressive campaign without wasting time on internal bickering. Nadda will also be camping after Durga Puja and the Bihar poll.

Land for Bagdogra airport expansion

The government on Wednesday cleared the decks for the expansion of Bagdogra airport in north Bengal as Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee handed over 104 acres of land to the Airports Authority of India for the project. With a steep rise in the number of flights and passengers at Bagdogra airport, the demand for the expansion was raised in several quarters in past few years. The rise in passenger count had made the AAI draw up plans for the expansion of the terminal building and allied infrastructure. However, the state government took time to arrange the land and the AAI paid ₹25 crore as compensation.

Decision on school reopening after Kali Puja: CM

Chief minister Mamata Banerjee said the West Bengal government would think about reopening schools after Kali Puja, which falls on November 14. "We cannot give a thought now because the situation has not become normal yet. We will think about the schools only after Kali Puja," said Mamata. Kali Puja and Diwali are on the same day this year. The chief minister made the comment about the prospect of reopening schools on Wednesday while announcing that the Integrated Child Development Services centres would remain closed till October 31 due to the ongoing pandemic. The chief minister had earlier said that her government might reopen schools and colleges on alternate days in September "if the situation improves in August".

Minister asks firms to ensure power supply for exams

State education minister Partha Chatterjee has asked CESC and the state power utility, WBSEDCL, to ensure uninterrupted power supply during the college and university exams between October 1 and 18. More than 1.1 million undergraduate and postgraduate students will take the final year exams across the state. The exams will not be held on campus because of the Covid-19 pandemic. Questions will be uploaded on the college websites and students will have to mail back scanned copies of answer scripts within half an hour of writing the test in keeping with a UGC advisory. CESC supplies power in Calcutta and neighbouring areas while WBSEDCL supplies power to the rest of Bengal.

Sealdah flyover to remain closed till Friday

The Sealdah flyover on AJC Bose Road will remain shut for three days from October 2. Vehicles headed for the flyover from north will be diverted from Shyambazar, Maniktala and Rajabazar and those coming from south will be diverted from Exide and Moulali intersections. ### Hindu girl kills herself after being blackmailed by rapists: Report

A 17-year-old Hindu girl killed herself in Pakistan's Sindh province after she was reportedly blackmailed by three men accused of sexually assaulting her, a media report said on Thursday. The girl ended her life by jumping into a deep well in village Dalan-Jo-Tarr in Tharparkar district on Wednesday, Dawn reported. Her body was retrieved by the villagers who rushed her to a nearby hospital where she was declared brought dead. "The girl was raped by three men in mid-July in 2019 and the accused in the case are on bail," the victim's father and other relatives told reporters. They alleged that the girl committed suicide after she was blackmailed and harassed by the influential suspects who had raped her, according to the paper. The trial in the case was delayed due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Singapore to allow travellers from more countries

Singapore will allow entry to travellers from Vietnam and Australia, excluding its coronavirus hot spot Victoria state, beginning next week. The tiny city-state last month welcomed visitors from Brunei and New Zealand, and is cautiously reopening its borders after a virus closure to help revive its airport, a key regional aviation hub. The aviation authority has said there is a low risk of virus importation from the two countries. Travellers must undergo a virus swab test upon arrival, travel on direct flights without transit and download a mobile app for contact tracing.

Palm oil giant hit with US ban over abuse concerns

The United States has banned imports from a Malaysian palm oil giant that supplies household titans like Procter & Gamble and Nestle over concerns its workers face physical and sexual violence and other abuses. US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) announced the ban on palm oil imports from FGV Holdings -- one of Malaysia's top producers -- on Wednesday following a year-long probe that also found indications the firm was withholding wages and using child labour. Palm oil is a common ingredient in items ranging from processed foods to cosmetics, with Malaysia and neighbouring Indonesia producing 85 percent of the world's supply. Activists claim the industry drives the destruction of rainforests to make way for plantations and that its low-paid foreign workers frequently face abuse.

Trump biggest driver of Covid-19 misinformation

Study of 38 mn articles identifies roots of coronavirus 'infodemic'

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump has been the world's biggest driver of Covid-19 misinformation during the pandemic, a study from Cornell University said Thursday.

A team from the Cornell Alliance for Science evaluated 38 million articles published by English-language, traditional media worldwide between January 1 and May 26 of this year.

The database they used aggregates coverage from countries such as the United States, Britain, India, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand and other African and Asian nations.

They identified 522,472 news articles that reproduced or amplified misinformation related to the coronavirus pandemic, or what the World Health Organization has called the "infodemic."

These were categorized into 11 main sub-topics, ranging from conspiracy theories to attacks on top scientist Anthony Fauci to the idea that the virus is a bioweapon unleashed by China.

But the most popular topic by far was what the study authors termed "miracle cures," which appeared in 295,351 articles -- more than the other 10 topics combined.

The authors found that comments by Trump drove major spikes in the "miracle cures" topic, led by his April 24 press briefing where he mused on the possibility of using disinfectants inside the body to cure the coronavirus.

Similar spikes were seen when he promoted unproven treatments like hydroxychloroquine.

"We conclude therefore that the president of the United States was likely the largest driver of the COVID-19 misinformation 'infodemic,'" the team wrote.

Sarah Evanega, who led the study and is director of the Cornell Alliance for Science, said: "If people are misled by unscientific and unsubstantiated claims about the disease, they may be less likely to observe official guidance and thus risk spreading the virus."

Co-author Jordan Adams, a data analyst at Cision Insights that provided the database, added: "One of the more interesting aspects of the data collection process was discovering the staggering amount of misinformation coverage directly linked to the public comments of a small number of individuals."

After miracle cures, the second-most prevalent misinformation topic was that the pandemic was created to advance a "new world order."

Next came the claim that the pandemic was a hoax for political gain by the US Democratic Party. AFP

Navalny points finger at Putin for Novichok poisoning

BERLIN

KREMLIN critic Alexei Navalny accused President Vladimir Putin of being behind his poisoning on Thursday, as he vowed to return to Russia to press on with his opposition campaign.

In the first media interview since his poisoning, Navalny gave harrowing details of his collapse on a flight from Tomsk to Moscow after he was poisoned by what the West identified as the Soviet-era nerve agent Novichok.

The 44-year-old anti-corruption campaigner also said he would not be cowed by the experience, pledging to get fit as soon as possible to continue his fight.

"Not returning would mean that Putin has achieved his aim. And my job now is to stay the guy who's not afraid," he told the Spiegel weekly.

"I will not give Putin the gift of not returning to Russia," he said, adding that for him "Putin is behind this act, I don't see any other explanation."

Putin's spokesman Dmitry Peskov claimed Navalny was working with the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). AFP

Deployment of Jihadists decried

STEPANAKERT

ARMENIAN and Azerbaijani forces intensified their shelling Thursday as French President Emmanuel Macron said the deployment of jihadist militants to Nagorny Karabakh was a "serious new" development.

The West and Russia renewed calls to halt several days of fighting over the disputed Nagorny Karabakh region that has left more than 130 dead.

In a joint appeal, Russian President Vladimir Putin, US President Donald Trump and Macron urged the two sides to return to negotiations aimed at resolving their longstanding territorial dispute. The French leader described their deployment as a "serious new fact, which changes the situation". AFP

Family of Charlie Hebdo attacker proud of him

KOTHLI QAZI

PAKISTANI farmer Arshad Mehmood has been filled with pride since his son stabbed two people outside the former offices of satirical magazine Charlie Hebdo in Paris last week, in the latest attack to expose the violent consequences of blasphemy allegations.

Zaheer Hassan Mehmood, who was born in Pakistan, has confessed to the attack, saying he was motivated by the magazine's recent republication of cartoons of the Prophet Mohammed, which are proscribed in Islam.

"In my opinion, what he did was very good," Arshad said.

The republication, marking the start of the trial over a deadly 2015 attack on the magazine's previous premises, sparked condemnation across the Islamic world and protests throughout Pakistan.

The younger Mehmood has since been charged with "attempted murder with relation to a terrorist enterprise".

Arshad Mehmood, father of Hassan Arshad, in Kothli Qazim in Pakistan | AFP

But back in his rural village of Kothli Qazi in Punjab province, his family and neighbours are heralding him as a defender of the Islamic faith.

"The person who kills those who disrespect the prophet goes to heaven, and his whole family goes to heaven," Arshad said. "Because of this, I feel very good that my son did such a good deed."

The assailant's mother Rukhsana Begum added that her son had told the family about the attacks in advance, and had asked for prayers. "He told us that on Friday after the Friday prayers he would do it. He also called one of his friends and told him that he saw the holy prophet in his dream and he will go and do this," said Begum.

Omar Waraich, deputy South Asia director at Amnesty International, noted a "cultural gap" fuelling the fury. "In France you have the tradition of satirising religion and people not feeling any offence for it," he said. "Whereas for many Pakistanis... any insult to the prophet is considered the most grievous insult there is and is perceived to be more harmful than violence itself."

The stabbing came just three weeks into a trial in Paris of the suspected accomplices to the 2015 attacks. AFP

Subway's bread isn't bread, says Irish court

LONDON

IRELAND'S Supreme Court has ruled that bread sold by the fast food chain Subway contains so much sugar that it cannot be legally defined as bread.

The ruling came in a tax dispute brought by Bookfinders Ltd., an Irish Subway franchisee, which argued that some of its takeaway products - including teas, coffees and heated sandwiches - were not liable for value-added tax.

A panel of judges rejected the appeal on Tuesday, ruling that the bread sold by Subway contains too much sugar to be categorized as a "staple food," which is not taxed.

"There is no dispute that the bread supplied by Subway in its heated sandwiches has a sugar content of 10% of the weight of the flour included in the dough, and thus exceeds the 2% specified," the judgement read.

The law makes a distinction between "bread as a staple food" and other baked goods "which are, or approach, confectionery or fancy baked goods," the judgement said. AP

GST collections show signs of improvement

While GST revenue was 4 per cent higher on a year-on-year basis, it was 10.4% more than collections in August

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER months of languishing, GST collections have finally begun showing signs of recovery. According to data released by the Centre, collections improved marginally in September to come in at ₹95,480 crore, the highest since March. However, GST income still remains below the psychologically important mark of ₹1 lakh crore per month.

A perusal of the data released on Thursday shows that although on a year-on-year basis GST growth was 4 per cent, the collections were 10.4 per cent higher compared to the preceding month.

WHO GETS WHAT?

₹17K cr was the Central GST collections in September

₹23K cr was the State GST collections in September

IGST collections for the months stood at ₹47,484 crore

Experts claim that the upcoming festive season will also help in keeping collections during subsequent months to remain at a high level. Analysts expect the increase in demand and business activity during the festive season to spur both growth and government revenues.

Of the total collection in the month of September, Central GST was ₹17,741 crore, State GST was ₹23,131 crore, and IGST was ₹47,484 crore, including ₹22,442 crore collected on the import of goods and ₹7,124 crore collected as compensation cess.

"The government has settled ₹21,260 crore to CGST and ₹16,997 crore to SGST from IGST as regular settlement," the Centre said in a statement, adding, "The total revenue earned by Central government and the state governments after regular settlement in the month of September, 2020 is ₹39,001 crore for CGST and ₹40,128 crore for the SGST".

A state-wise break-up of GT data from the month shows that Maharashtra was the top GST contributor, but contributions remained almost stagnant at ₹13,546 crore compared to same period last year. However, states such as Gujarat recorded a 6 per cent growth at ₹6,090 crore, Tamil Nadu saw collections increase by 15 per cent at ₹6,454 crore, while Karnataka saw a contraction of 5 per cent at ₹6,050 crore during the period under review.

MS Mani, senior director at consultancy firm Deloitte India pointed out that the positive growth is a good sign for the economy. "A modest increase of 4 per cent in the GST collections compared to the previous year indicates that the economic recovery process is underway, with some key large states also reporting increased collections," he said.

September PMI records fastest growth in 8 years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE a rising number of Covid-19 cases, factory activity as measured by the Nikkei Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index, jumped to 56.8 in September from 52.0 in August—above the 50-level separating growth from contraction for the second straight month. According to IHS Markit, which conducts the survey, this was the highest reading of the index since January 2012.

The rapid rise was supported by "accelerated increases in new orders and production. Concurrently, there were renewed expansions in export sales and input stocks as well as an improvement in business confidence," the survey said.

The unlocking of the economy, which allowed more factories and businesses to restart and pent up demand to come to the fore, helped despite local restrictions imposed due to the increased number of cases.

Output prices also rose for the first time in six months, reflecting an uptick in input costs. The expansion in industrial activity is good news for Indian policy makers as its economy posted one of the worst contractions (24%) in the April-June quarter.

However, analysts remain cautious, pointing out that other numbers remained poor. "Other indicators of activity paint a much more sobering picture of the recovery. For example, the core infrastructure industries index released yesterday showed a deeper contraction in output in August compared to a month earlier," said Darren Aw, Asia Economist at Capital Economics. IHS Markit also pointed out that despite the strong growth of order volumes, Indian manufacturers signalled another reduction in payroll numbers.

The rapid rise was supported by accelerated increases in new orders and production. Concurrently, there were renewed expansions in export sales and input stocks

IHS Markit

"In many cases, this was attributed to efforts to observe social distancing guidelines. Employment has now declined six consecutive months," it noted. According to Aw, the PMI's strength would probably not sustain as "the extreme damage inflicted to corporate balance sheets means that many firms will continue to struggle. A weak labour market will also keep a lid on incomes and demand."

PANDEMIC IMPACT

Fall in deposits reveals household stress: SBI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A large decline in savings bank deposits and lower pace of accretion of time deposits during Unlock-4 reveals household stress, SBI said in its Ecowrap report on Thursday. It added that consumer deleverage also declined in August, indicating that the stress on household balance sheets was now emerging with gusto.

"Our bottom up approach suggests that deposit and credit growth (extrapolated on the basis of sum of daily variations) during the unlock 4regime witnessed large declines, with the maximum decline in savings bank deposits and even bank advances during successive lockdowns," SBI said.

Deposits (savings, current and term) which rose to ₹1.21 lakh crore in Unlock-2 has declined significantly to ₹44,339 crore during Unlock-4. Similarly, total advances which increased to ₹97,818 crore fell sharply to ₹1.76 lakh crore during the same period.

Reversing the increasing trend witnessed in June and July, incremental bank credit growth has lost much of the momentum in August. The bank credit that increased by ₹39,200 crore in June and July, fell by ₹36,000 crore in the month of August.

The report further added that estimates of short-term consumer leverage (presented as sum of credit card, personal loans, advances against FD, shares, bonds outstanding, etc.) which had reached a peak in FY18 at ₹1.56 lakh crore declined significantly to ₹1.29 lakh crore in FY19.

However during FY20, this has increased marginally to ₹1.35 lakh crore, reflecting possible consumer stress. Consumer deleveraging, which had declined by whopping ₹53,023 crore in June, has improved to ₹14,111 crore in August. However, tt remains to be seen how much of this consumer deleveraging is because of the lockdown or lack of business, and how much is because of consumers actually maintaining a discipline in consumer behavior.

Govt borrowing target tough ask

While the government ssticking to its borrowing programme will please the debt markets, the target looks challenging given the current exceptionally weak Government finances, SBI cautioned, adding that it expects the country's consolidated fiscal deficit to touch 13% of GDP

Car, 2-wheeler manufacturers record large spike in demand during Sept

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SHOWING signs of a quick recovery, carmakers and two-wheeler manufacturers on Thursday reported double digit growth in their September sales figures.

Maruti Suzuki (MSIL), India's largest carmaker, said sales grew by 33.9 per cent year-on-year. MSIL's hatchback sales grew 44.3 per cent year-on-year with more people opting for personal mobility due to the pandemic. Maruti's utility vehicles sales rose 10 per cent to 23,699 units.

Hyundai Motor (HMIL) sold 50,313 units last month, a growth of 23.6 per cent y-o-y. Tarun Garg, director, Sales, Marketing and Service, HMIL said, "We are confident that the coming festive season will drive the market on a steady recovery path with positive customer sentiments."

Kia Motors achieved its highest-ever domestic sales since its Indian foray, at 18,676 units, while home-grown Tata Motors reported 162 per cent jump in PV sales. Kookhyun Shim, MD & CEO, Kia Motors India said "The Indian auto market is recovering at a better-than-expected pace and we are progressing as per our defined plan." Mahindra & Mahindra saw 4 per cent increase in PV sales, while Honda Cars sales grew 9.7 per cent.

Two-wheeler maker Hero MotorCorp registered record sales of 715,718 units—its highest in a single month in 2020, while Honda's (HMSI) YoY domestic sales zoomed by 10 per cent.

TVS Motor registered total sales growth of 14 per cent, while Bajaj Auto's domestic two-wheeler sales grew by 24 per cent. But, the growth is also seeing a base effect since sales were low in September 2019.

Google's new policy miffs start-ups

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

INDIAN startups have upped ante against Google after the company notified a 30 per cent charge/tax on all in-app purchases from its Android playstore. Apart from this, Google had earlier briefly removed Paytm from its appstore alleging that it was promoting gambling. Food delivery startups Zomato and Swiggy on Wednesday were also similar notices asking them to remove several gamification features. The food tech companies have sought more clarifications.

Sources say that the Indian start-up community led by Paytm CEO Vijay Shekhar Sharma is also contemplating taking the matter to the Union Ministry of Information and Technology, highlighting Google's alleged monopoly in the app store segment, since the company commands more than 90 per cent of the app market in India.

"The app developers have also spoken at length on having an indigenous app store to thwart the designs of tech giants like Google and Apple, who are regulating all the policy matters with regards to app store. At a time when Prime Minister Modi has emphasised on Atma Nirbhar, the time has come for the regulators as well as innovators to come together and give a befetting reply to these anti-competitive practices," said a start-up founder on condition of anonymity.

"Although a few apps now have their own playstores, competing with Google is a daunting task. The government intervention should instead happen at the policy level, such as asking Google to revise its policy with respect to each geography and abide by the laws of the land ," Ankir Rai, CEO, Aiisa.

No interim stay on order to remove Lodha

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Division Bench of the Calcutta High Court on Thursday declined to grant an interim stay on an earlier single bench order which had directed the removal of Harsh Vardhan Lodha from all the positions within the MP Birla Group of Companies.

The earlier judgement had been the result of a dispute between the Birla family and the Lodhas arising from the will of the late Priyamvada Birla, which had left her estate to her accountant R S Lodha and his son H V Lodha. While Lodha had petitioned the High Court to grant an interim stay, the Division Bench comprising Chief Justice Thottathil B Radhakrishnan and Justice Shampa Sarkar did not do so.

"We see that the impugned order refers to material facts; reflects reasons and demonstrates judicial consideration and determination of matters which fall within the domain of Section 247 of the Succession Act. We cannot treat it as a perverse decision or one which deflects the course of justice; or, that it is not in the best interest of the PDB's estate," the order said.

SBI, HUL to offer online credit to retailers

SESA SEN @New Delhi

STATE Bank of India (SBI) has tied up with Hindustan Unilever Ltd (HUL) to offer online credit to retailers and distributors to help support the ecosystem during the pandemic—which has caused liquidity and financial crises for small businesses.

Under the partnership, the bank will offer instant paperless overdraft facility of up to ₹50,000 to retailers for their billings with distributors as well as a financing facility to HUL's distributors.

The company will start a pilot of the system in Mumbai and Bengaluru. SBI will also install Point of Sale (PoS) machines at HUL touch points in smaller cities and provide UPI-based solutions to ensure retailers can make instant payments to dealers through HUL's Shikhar app, which helps retailers order goods directly.

Distributors have been opting for spot payments from retailers despite existing relationships since cash flows have been stretched to the breaking point. "It is our endeavour to digitise and modernise this channel; support the retailers with the right assortment and enable them to access timely and affordable funding," said HUL CMD, Sanjiv Mehta.

While the recovery of general trade, which still accounts for a bulk of sales, is crucial for FMCG players, Mehta added that this channel also plays a significant role for the economy by creating employment opportunities. The ecosystem comprising small retailers and distributors, he added, have historically been working in an environment which is informal and as such they do not have access to credit.

ABOUT 18 months back, this was not even supposed to be a two-horse race for the wicket-keeper's slot. It was almost clear that India had moved on from MS Dhoni. There was Rishabh Pant, a successor to the legend in the long run. That's when things started going wrong for the youngster.

Pant went to last year's World Cup alright, but as a batsman, as a replacement for the injured Shikhar Dhawan. After that, it started getting worse. As a result, Pant's A-game went missing. He lost his Test spot to Wriddhiman Saha at home last year and earned it back in New Zealand. But those two Tests hardly helped his cause. What happened in the shorter formats did not make it better either as KL Rahul superseded him as batsman-keeper.

And here we are, in the middle of IPL. If India were to pick the squad for the T20 World Cup now, it would be impossible to not look beyond Rahul as first choice. If we are looking at back-ups, Pant is facing serious competition from Sanju Samson. Not far behind is Ishan Kishan, who has been a regular in the India A set-up. It isn't a straight-forward call anymore.

"The retirement of Dhoni should have inspired Pant to own the keeper's slot and do much better," said MSK Prasad, who was the chairman of selectors till March. "With regards to T20 and ODIs, this IPL has seen some wonderful performances from Samson and Ishan which opens the door for quadrilateral competition considering that Rahul and Pant are already there. We backed Pant but since he didn't keep well, it opened the doors for Rahul who grabbed the opportunity with both hands. He has been consistent with the gloves and bat and that makes him first choice in T20s and ODIs. In whatever opportunities he has got, Rahul hasn't done anything wrong. Be it for Karnataka, India or Kings XI Punjab, he looks calm and composed behind the stumps. The other three have to raise the bar to compete with him," said Prasad.

Of late, India seem to have changed their approach towards T20s. Instead of early cautiousness, there is an attempt to go for it from the beginning. While Rahul's performance with the gloves opens up another slot, it might affect his game. With a year to go for the next T20 World Cup, there is scope to try out a few other than Pant before taking a decision.

Late launch, early break give MI thumping win

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

DESPITE a slow start, Mumbai Indians upped the ante late in the innings to put up 191/4 and that proved sufficient as they defeated Kings XI Punjab by 48 runs on Thursday. Rohit Sharma hit a 45-ball 70 for Mumbai. Jasprit Bumrah picked up two wickets.

Mumbai lost opener Quinton de Kock for a duck in the first over. Suryakumar Yadav was out in the third over, leaving the team at 21/2 after four overs. However, Rohit hung on to bring up his second half-century of the season.

The plot changed in the last six overs. The late onslaught from Kieron Pollard and Hardik Pandya meant Mumbai accumulated 89 runs for a loss of one wicket in the final five overs.

Brief scores: MI 191/4 in 20 ovs (Rohit 70, Pollard 47 n.o) bt KXIP 143/8 in 20 ovs (Pooran 44, Bumrah 2/18).

Chahal looking to make most of conditions

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

SHARJAH has proved to be a death bed for bowlers, where 62 sixes have been hit in two matches while Dubai and Abu Dhabi have accounted for 129 in 11 matches. If the small boundaries in Sharjah have come to the batsmen's rescue with mishits also fetching maximums, the other two venues with bigger boundaries have helped bowlers in IPL 2020.

In venues like Abu Dhabi and Dubai, spinners have room to experiment. One has also seen spinners flighting the ball more and getting more turn in these two venues.

For Royal Challengers Bangalore leg-spinner Yuzvendra Chahal, Dubai — where they have played all their three games so far — is heaven. Back in India, they play their home matches at Chinnaswamy Stadium where boundaries are small. "The side boundaries (is big) and you can flight the ball a little more here. We played at Chinnaswamy previously, so playing here is like heaven for us," said Chahal in a virtual press conference.

"There are bigger boundaries here, so batsmen have to think. They have to hit the ball very clean. Sometimes in Chinnaswamy, even if the batsmen mistimes the ball, it can go for fours and sixes. We have more chances (of taking wickets) as one can challenge the batsmen too."

Bangalore's next three games will be in Dubai and Abu Dhabi and the team will look to gain maximum points before they move to Sharjah. With Virat Kohli's men already under criticism for their poor bowling, the next three games will be an opportunity for their bowlers to redeem themselves.
